WHO WAS THE BLOND?

Phone Chat With Preston Recalled

By STEPHEN COOK

Kenneth Allen Preston, fighting for his life in Marin Superior Court, was home in Santa Rosa at the time his co-defendant and a blond companion were seen in Marin County the night of the killing, a witness in his defense testified today.

Janet Warren, a young Santa Rosa mother, told Preston's jury that she was talking to the 20-year-old motorcyclist on the telephone at 11:20 p.m. Jan. 12.

At approximately 10 p.m. that night, Curtis and Shirley Ackley were slain in their Santa Venetia trailer house.

A prosecution witness has testified that she saw Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, president of Preston's motorcycle gang, and a blond companion riding north on Highway 101, between Novato and Cotati, at 11:20 p.m. that night.

The mysterious blond companion could not have been Preston, Mrs. Warren said. At exactly 11:20 p.m. she dialed the number of Preston's Santa Rosa cabin to speak to Preston's roommate, Ronald Edward Long.

"Ken answered the phone and told me Ron was not there. I could see the clock on the wall from the couch," she said.

The clock must have been right, she said. The electricity in her apartment had been turned off earlier in the day. When it was restored, she called the telephone company to set the electric clock at the correct time.

Mrs. Warren told the jury she had been at her sister's, about two miles away, that night to watch a television movie. When the show ended at 11 p.m., she drove home with her baby, put the baby down and dialed the number of the Preston cabin.

Under rigorous cross-examination by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, who complained that the defense should give him the names of witnesses in advance, Mrs. Warren denied having told inspectors from the Marin sheriff's office that the clock had been running badly.

Mrs. Mary Allen of Sebastopol, another defense witness, told the jury that she could positively identify a shotgun Bales says came from the Ackley trailer house as having been given to Preston by her husband on Preston's 20th birthday last year.

"I'm sure that's the gun," she said. "I had to look at it every day for two years until he gave it to Ken."

Preston fought the microscope and other weapons of the scientist-policeman yesterday before he got a chance to move actively to his own defense.

Fierce Cong Shelling Turns Saigon Into City Of Fires

SAIGON (AP) — Saigon took its worst enemy bombardment of the last five weeks early today. The Viet Cong slammed in 16 rockets which killed 25 Vietnamese civilians and wounded another 43, military officers reported.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland predicted the Viet Cong would continue its bombardment of the South Vietnamese capital "to grab headlines throughout the world by portraying a facade or aura of strength."

BACK TO VIETNAM

The outgoing commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam returned from Washington today.

South Vietnamese headquarters announced that the nightly barrage of 100-pound Russian rockets set fire to 27 houses today, destroying or damaging them.

In terms of casualties and damage, it was the worst enemy shelling of Saigon since the Viet Cong began frequent bombardment of the capital 34 days ago in an apparent attempt to terrorize the population.

CIVILIAN TOLL

The casualties raised the civilian toll in Saigon from rockets and mortars to 97 killed and 368 wounded during the past five weeks. In the same period, there have been hundreds of other civilian casualties from the crossfire of street fighting.

The barrage poured in a few hours before Westmoreland returned and some of the rockets landed close to his residence, to that of the top U.S. Navy commander and to the residence of the commander of South Korea's 48,000-man force in Vietnam.

While none of the commanders was hurt, nine houses were set afire on Westmoreland's street, seven civilians were killed and 15 more were wounded there.

Sporadic ground fighting was reported continuing for the eighth consecutive day in southwestern section of the capital and in the northeastern suburb of Gia Dinh.

In Cholon, the Chinese section of Saigon that is 2.5 miles southwest of the presidential palace, South Vietnamese rangers stormed a three-story building that Viet Cong guerrillas were holding and killed two of the enemy.

OTHERS FLEE

The others had fled through the night and holed out in buildings near a Chinese restaurant. Government tanks were blasting the buildings in efforts to crush the remaining guerrillas.

Over North Vietnam, U.S. fighter-bombers flew a total of 131 missions yesterday against enemy supply routes.

The Air Force also took the wraps off the biggest rescue effort of the war, a three-day operation over the weekend in the southern part of North Vietnam.

A small armada of warplanes and helicopters flew 189 sorties, three planes and one pilot were lost, a number of planes and helicopters were damaged, but Navy Lt. Kenny D. Fields — the object of the operation — was rescued.

Johnson Reported Looking Harried

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A congressman who visited the White House today said President Johnson looked "harried with circles under his eyes."

Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., a close friend of Johnson, quoted the President as saying: 'Henry, you can't imagine what we've been going through these last few days —what has been happening."

Gonzalez said Johnson apparently has spent "some sleepless nights" and was saddened by the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of his slain predecessor.

Poor People's Aide Bows Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bayard Rustin, Negro civil rights leader, bowed out today as coordinator of the June 19 mass march of the Poor People's campaign.

Announcing Rustin's resignation, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the campaign, said that to succeed him he had chosen Sterling Tucker, the executive director of the Urban League in Washington.

The June 19 demonstration is considered critical to efforts toward pumping momentum back into the campaign, which has been torn by disagreement and disorganization.

Thousands In Final Tribute To Kennedy At St. Patrick's

President May Veto Gun Curbs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today faced a difficult decision whether to accept an anti-crime bill he thinks is faulty or veto it and hope for an improved version from Congress.

It appeared unlikely lawmakers would give him the stronger gun curbs he demanded.

Johnson's remarks came shortly after the House passed the pistols only provision. The Senate had earlier acted on the measure.

STILL UNDECIDED

Due to the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and rising rates of crime and violence in the nation, the issue was permeated with emotion. There was no indication which way Johnson would turn.

Within hours of Sen. Kennedy's death yesterday from an assassin's bullet, Johnson took to national radio and television to criticize Congress for accepting "watered-down" proposals that would curb sales of handguns only and not rifles or shotguns.

'HOUR HAS COME'

"Today the nation cries out to the conscience of the Congress," he said. "Criminal violence from the muzzle of a gun has once again brought heartbreak to America.

"The hour has come for the Congress to enact a strong and effective gun control law covering the full range of lethal weapons."

The gun control provision he condemned as too timid would ban the mailorder sale of hand-guns, restrict over-the counter sales to state residents 21 and over, curb imports and clamp down on traffic in military type weapons.

OLD LAW

No federal laws regulating guns have been enacted since the 1930s when Congress moved to deprive gangsters of machine-guns and sawed-off shotguns.

Johnson also had reservations about other sections of the bill.

These were provisions to permit court-supervised wire-tapping in the investigation of major crimes and to overturn certain Supreme Court rulings that extended the rights of criminal suspects in regard to confessions and eyewitness testimony.

OTHER PROVISIONS

Other provisions of the bill would authorize a $400 million, two-year program for improvement of local police forces, including intensified riot training. There was little controversy over those.

Johnson's call for stiffer gun regulation was met with a promise from Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, to introduce such legislation next week.

GRIEVING WIDOW — Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, her head bowed and eyes closed, prays for her slain husband during a visit today to his funeral bier at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City. (UPI Telephoto)

Funeral, Burial Tomorrow

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mourners from all over the nation passed by the closed coffin of Robert F. Kennedy at the rate of 6,000 an hour today.

The widow, Ethel, knelt nearby and the nation's great and celebrated stood guard at the bier.

Police estimated at midday that 40,000 persons had attended the lying-in-state at St. Patrick's Cathedral, six and one-half hours after the bronze sculptured doors were opened to the public. More than that number waited on the streets outside for as long as five hours for admittance. (See other stories and pictures, pages 2 and 13.)

AT CATHEDRAL

Mrs. Kennedy wearing a black dress and black bow in her hair, arrived for the noon mass for the dead with her three eldest children, Kathleen, 17, Joseph C. III, 16, and Robert Jr., 14. Her eyes were wide and staring but she appeared composed after the three-day ordeal that began when assassin's bullet penetrated her husband's brain in Los Angeles.

The senator, who died early yesterday, was brought here by presidential jet last night in preparation for the funeral mass tomorrow at 7 a.m. PDT and burial later in the day in Arlington National Cemetery. The body will be taken by train to Washington. The lyin-in-state was the biggest held in New York in living memory.

PLANS UNKNOWN

The two men who were Kennedy's rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination — Vice President Hubert E. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—said they would attend. President Johnson's plans, however, were not announced.

The midtown area was a crush of an estimated 1 million persons, many of whom had hoped to pass the bier but were

Indian Dance Of Mourning Set At Quentin

A dance of mourning in memory of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will be performed by 60 American Indians on the yard of San Quentin Prison Sunday.

The Indians, from several tribes, will perform traditional chants and mourning dances as thousands of inmates watch. The Indians, in full regalia, also will hold a peace pipe ceremony.

"We want to express our hope for our country, that it may end the strife, and rededicate ourselves to the fight against our real enemies—poverty, ignorance and hate," said Adam Nordwell, chairman of the United Bay Area Council for Indian Affairs.

"This will be our tribute to a fallen warrior."

The prison program was originally planned as a gala Indian cultural show in conjunction with an organization of Indian inmates. But with the assassination, plans were changed to make the program a tribute to Kennedy.

"He was our great friend," said Nordwell.

Grand Jury Launches Assassination Probe

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A 22-member grand jury began receiving testimony today for a murder indictment against the accused assasssin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

It was doubtful the accused, Sirhan B. Sirhan, would be taken before the panel from his jail cell. Extra guards were placed around the Los Angeles county jail after telephoned death threats against him.

Seventeen witnesses were summoned to testify before the jury in a high-paneled ceiling room in the Hall of Justice. The witnesses were gathered in a nearby small waiting room.

One witness, a porter employed at the Ambassador Hotel where the senator was fatally shot, told newsmen Sirhan had lain in wait for a half-hour for Kennedy.

Asked if the suspect seemed nervous, he said, "he looked worried—not nervous." He said Sirhan had shuffled papers in his hands during Kennedy's 30-minute address claiming victory in the California primary election.

Asked if Sirhan had any companions, the porter replied, "I didn't see anyone with him."

At this point, he was herded into the waiting room by officers before he could give his name.

The first witness before the jury was Paul Ziffren, former Democratic national committeeman for California. He was called to advise the jury formally that the victim was the New York senator.

Grand Jury Indicts On Embassy Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury handed down today the first indictment arising out of the 1967 bombings of Yugoslav embassies and consulates—and charged a 25-year-old Yugoslav emigre with perjury.

Named in the indictment was Borislov Djordje Kornic of Chicago, a native of Belgrade, Yugoslavia, who entered the United States April 28, 1965, as a permanent resident. Kornic is a lathe operator in a Chicago laundry machinery company.

Campaign Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's office said today the Minnesota Democrat will resume next Thursday his presidential campaign suspended after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Major Candidates Protection Signed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bereaved and indignant at the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, Congress and President Johnson have moved quickly to provide what they hope will be insurance against further political murder.

The president yesterday signed into law legislation authorizing Secret Service protection of major candidates for the presidency and vice presidency.

The House and Senate acted within hours of Kennedy's death to approve the protection. Johnson, acting extra legally, already had dispatched federal agents to protect all major candidates after Kennedy's shooting in Los Angeles.

Secret Servicemen are now protecting Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Harold Stassen and third-party candidate George A. Wallace. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the leading Democratic contender for the presidential nomination, already has such protection.

The legislation speedily approved, legalized Johnson's action of the day before and provided $400,000 to finance protection of the candidates through the end of this month.

Next week, legislation is expected to provide an extra $2 million to the Secret Service for the upcoming fiscal year.

There are currently 575 trained Secret Service agents. In addition to protecting the president and vice president, the agents are charged with enforcing laws against counterfeiting and forgery of government checks and bonds.

Auto Plant New French Clash Center

PARIS (UPI)—More than 5,000 strikers today tried to storm the state-run Renault automotive plant at Flins west of Paris. They hurled bricks, stones and ball bearings at riot police forces who hit back with tear gas grenades.

The clash erupted as the strike-shattered French economy moved shakily back into gear. Gaullists and leftists squared off to slug it out in what was expected to be one of the bitterest election battles in years.

The state-run Renault plant at Flins, about 25 miles west of Paris, employs some 10,000 workers. Strikers who had occupied it for two weeks were expelled by riot police yesterday at the management's request. It was reopened for work this morning.

The main Renault plant at Billancourt, a Paris suburb, which employs 25,000 workers, still is strikebound.

The rioting strikers at Flins were joined by some 200 left wing students from the Sorbonne University in Paris.

Demonstrators and 2,000 helmeted riot police armed with clubs and tear-gas grenades faced each other across a square in front of the Renault plant.

Voice Of America Director Resigns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Veteran broadcaster John Charles Daly has resigned as director of the Voice of America, charging his boss, Leonard H. Marks, with "maladministration" of the parent U.S. Information Agency.

Daly accused Marks of practicing "executive undercutting" by reassigning members of Daly's staff without consultation while the VOA chief was abroad on a trip. Marks did not refer to the dispute in a letter accepting the resignation, which is effective today.

Daly, a 30-year veteran of the broadcast business, is best known for his tenure as moderator of the television show "What's My Line." He is also a son-in-law of Chief Justice Earl Warren.

$300,000 In Stolen Dimes Recovered

PATCHOGUE, N.Y. (AP) — More than $300,000 worth of dimes—part of a $500,000-shipment hijacked from a Railway Express Agency truck May 29 — was recovered last night by FBI agents and Suffolk County police, the FBI said.

Police said the $304,000 in newly minted dimes was found in a false-bottomed platform at the West Avenue Sportswear Corp. in this Long Island village which is about 50 miles east of New York City.

The president of the firm, Charles Curiale, 40, of Brookhaven, N.Y., was arrested and charged with possession of stolen goods from an interstate shipment.

The truck carrying the five million dimes from the U.S. Silver Depository at West Point to Oklahoma City was hijacked at gunpoint in Fort Lee, N.J., by at least three men. The driver was released unharmed later in Upstate New York and the truck was found, abandoned, at Blue Point, on Long Island's South Shore.

If convicted, Curiale, who will be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner tomorrow, could receive 10 years in jail and a $5,000 fine.

Lindsay, Keating, Dewey Mentioned For RFK Post

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—The well known New York Republican names of Keating, Dewey and Lindsay received mention today in speculation over the appointment of a successor to assassinated Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Political observers believed Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller probably would adhere to tradition and appoint a Republican to hold the office until Kennedy's term expires Dec. 31, 1970.

But Rockefeller was not expected to act for as much as 30 days out of respect for Kennedy, whose death left New York Democrats without a first rank office holder for the first time in decades.

Mayor John V. Lindsay was considered a possibility. But observers pointed out his appointment would return the New York City Hall to the Democrats. His departure would bring City Council President Frank O'Connor, a Democrat, to the office.

The names of former Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, the man Kennedy defeated in 1964, and former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Rep. Ogden Reid, arose in speculation Rockefeller might appoint a "caretaker" to the seat.

Pope Offers Private Mass For Kennedy

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today offered mass for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy "to implore from God peace for the soul of the deceased, comfort for those he leaves behind and mercy for this poor world shaken by violence," a Vatican spokesman said.

The spokesman said only the Roman Catholic pontiff and two private secretaries were present at the mass, celebrated in his private chapel at the Apostolic Palace.

The Pope prayed for Kennedy and his family throughout Wednesday and yesterday. He celebrated mass for the senator, imploring "the mercy of the Lord," several hours before Kennedy died.

Later the Pope personally dictated messages of "sincere condolences" to President Lyndon B. Johnson and the senator's widow.

Pope Paul personally signed the cables, showing his deep concern over the assassination. Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, the Vatican secretary of state, normally signs such messages in the Pope's name.

Later the pontiff said Angelo Cardinal Dell'Acqua, the papal vicar for Rome and a friend of the Kennedy family, would represent him at the funeral.

The cardinal was flying to the United States later today.

ARMY CAN'T PLAY FOOTSIE WITH THIS GI

FORT CARSON, Colo. (AP) — Pvt. Jim Aufenthie, 19, is getting an honorable discharge from the Army. His feet are too big.

Aufenthie enlisted a year ago and the military has been trying ever since to come up with a pair of 16½ EEEEE combat boots. No luck.

The best efforts of custom boot makers, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and a two-star general went for naught.

So, a Fort Carson spokesman said, the 6-foot-2-inch, 200-pound soldier from Rochester, Minn., is being processed for discharge within the next two weeks because his feet make him "unsuitable for military service."

Sen. Kuchel Concedes To Rafferty

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Declaring his 15 years in Washington part of "the most thrilling chapter of my life," U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel concedes he has lost his Republican nomination bid to Max Rafferty.

Semi - official final returns issued Wednesday by the secretary of state's office showed Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, garnered 50 per cent of GOP votes in Tuesday's primary while Kuchel rolled up 46.9 per cent.

In a statement telephoned from Washington, Kuchel said "returns . . . indicate that Max Rafferty has been nominated and I have therefore sent him a telegram felicitating him on his victory."

"I wish to add my unbounded gratitude to my fellow Republicans and to my fellow Californians who have permitted me to serve them for more than 15 years in the United States Senate and for a like period in California state government.

"They constitute the most thrilling chapter of my life," said Kuchel, 57. "I can never lose a keen interest in government."

Rafferty had not issued a victory statement, saying Wednesday that such a comment would constitute campaigning and "all my campaign activities have ceased" in grief over the fatal shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The 51-year-old state schools chief will face Democrat Alan Cranston on the Nov. 5 ballot. Cranston, former state controller, won a landslide victory for his party's nomination.

Cranston got 1,649,865 votes to the nearest challenger, State Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, with 632,640.

Kuchel chalked up 1,017,428 votes to Rafferty's 1,084,063 only five votes more than half of the 2,168,117 ballots cast for that office.

War Is Still Antidraft Trial Issue

BOSTON (UPI)—The legality and morality of America's conduct of the Vietnam war held center stage again yesterday, despite repeated court rulings that the war is irrevelant to the 13-day anti-draft conspiracy trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four co-defendants.

Since the war and its conduct has been shown important in determining the defendants' "state of mind," 85-year-old Judge Francis J. W. Ford has allowed these issues to be discussed in open court.

LONG SESSION

Marcus Raskin, 34, co-director of the Institute for Policy Studies in Washington and former of the special staff of the National Security Council, testified on the war and the draft all day yesterday, his second day on the witness stand.

On trial with Spock and Raskin are Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43, chaplain of Yale University; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher from Temple, Me. and Michael Ferber, 23-year-old Harvard graduate student from Buffalo, N.Y.

Raskin, the fourth defendant to testify in the trial in which all are charged with conspiracy to counsel young men to evade the draft, was also subjected to intensive cross-examination.

MANY DRAFTEES

Raskin said that 40 per cent of the soldiers in Vietnam were draftees, and that the United States was violating international agreements concerning the treatment of prisoners who had been subjected to "sadistic methods and torturous methods in order to obtain information in Vietnam."

"I believe the war making power rested with the Congress and not with the president," he further stated.

Asked by his defense attorney, "What happened in the late summer of 1967 which affected your view of the war?" Raskin answered with sadness in his voice, "My friend Bernard Fall was killed."

Raskin collaborated with Fall, who was killed while on patrol with U.S. Marines in Vietnam, on the book "Vietnam reader."

Fall was considered a leading expert on Vietnamese affairs.

Thousands Pay Final Respects To Kennedy

discouraged by the long wait in the 90 degree heat.

One of the most poignant moments of the day was the visit of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, herself widowed by an assassin, at the bier. She stood for a moment and touched her brother-in-law's mahogany casket with a white-gloved hand, inclining her grief-etched face shadowed by a black lace mantilla, then moved on.

Another was the moment of silence observed by the United Nation's 124 delegations at a meeting of the General Assembly, whose president Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu, said the tragic event compelled the world "to reflect on the taints and defects that poison the screen of contemporary history."

The great and the humble, some lugging shopping bags and others carrying cameras, stood patiently in line for nearly a mile on midtown streets in muggy heat for a glimpse of the undraped mahogany casket. Honor guard teams of four, family and friends, stood guard for 30 minutes at a time.

So great was the crush to say farewell to the slain senator that Catholic archdiocesan officials order St. Patrick's Cathedral opened throughout tonight to accommodate as many as possible.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, only survivor of the four Kennedy brothers, sat alone at the first mass, the first of eight which was to be said for the assassinated senator during the day. Earlier young Robert F. Kennedy, joined an honor guard team that included television personality Jack Paar.

Young Kennedy alternated between clenching his fist and running his fingers gently over the top of his father's coffin. Occasionally he glanced up at the thousands passing, weeping, crossing themselves, even bending quickly to kiss the bier.

He saw mourners who wore Kennedy campaign buttons with black crepe attached. He saw young tourists with knapsacks on their backs. He heard the shuffle of a multitude of feet on the cathedral's marble floor, the deep throb of the organ, and the gentle sound of sobbing.

"Oh, God, what have they done to you," one woman cried loudly as she knelt in the light of tall tapers to press her lips to the casket lid.

As brilliant sunlight poured through the stained glass windows of the cathedral to replace the dusky candle glow as the line lengthened from Fifth Avenue to Madison and Park avenues, Mourners funneled into the midtown area by train, subway, car and chartered bus, filling Park Avenue's flowered bordered walks eight abreast.

Hundreds had waited throughout the night for St. Patrick's bronze doors to swing open at sunrise.

Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, 77, came to the Cathedral alone, took communion at a side altar, and remained for 80 minutes.

Green Berets made up one honor guard team including Sgt. Major Francis J. Ruddy, 43, who had laid his beret on the grave of John F. Kennedy at the late president's burial.

Others who stood watching as the hours passed were Charles Evers, brother of assassinated civil rights leader Medgar Evers, Kennedy aide Kenneth O'Donnell, the NAACP's Roy Wilkins, and Washington columnist Rowland Evans.

At the airport, Terence J. Cooke, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, said a prayer for the dead and sprinkled the casket with holy water. He also presided over the family service later.

Archbishop Cooke will be chief celebrant of the Requiem Mass, and will deliver Kennedy eulogy.

Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston and close personal friend of the Kennedy family, will preside at the Requiem Mass and "preach a sermon." He conducted the funeral in Washington for President Kennedy.

$34,951 Is Sought By Ex-Director

A former headmaster at San Rafael Military Academy and his wife today filed a suit asking a total of $34,591 in damages from the school for alleged breach of contracts and conspiracy.

The Marin Superior Court complaint by Lawrence W. Robertson and his wife, Merle G. Robertson, charges the school failed to pay him his due salary when he resigned Sept. 4, 1967; that it wrongly terminated Mrs. Roberson's contract for $7,775 to teach from Sept. 1, 1967, to June 15, 1968, and that the school falsely represented that she resigned her position.

The suit also charges that a painting and a rubbing owned by Mrs. Robertson, was willfully damaged by school officials in September 1967.

An assistant coach, John Pagliaro, filed a $30,675 damage suit against the school Nov. 9, 1967. He also alleged breach of contract and conspiracy. The school is owned by the Episcopal Diocese of California. Benjamin Palmer Clark, academy superintendant, is a co-defendant in both the Robertson and the Pagliaro complaints.

Mediator Holds Strike Session

A U.S. Mediation Service representative was closeted today with members of the Machinists' Union Local 238 and bargainers from California Metal Trades Association, representing four Marin metal fabricating plants still struck by the union.

The Mediation Service man, Clell E. Harris, said at noon he had "nothing to release" on the talks, which were being held at the Tiburon Lodge. The four struck plants are A. G. Schoonmaker, E. D. Bullard and Vincent Whitney Co., all in Sausalito, and Bergman Manufacturing Co., San Rafael.

H. Koch & Sons, Corte Madera, reached an agreement with the machinists and resumed operations yesterday.

Alto Fire Board Adopts Budget

A final 1968-69 budget of $127,000 was adopted last night by the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Protection District Board. Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen said the board specified the tax rate should not exceed 72 cents.

This year's rate is 73.5 cents for a $125,000 budget, but Haynen said increased property valuation should bring the tax rate down.

The budget includes a 5 per cent pay increase for firemen. Salaries total $83,000, maintenance $20,000, capital outlay $5,000 and reserves $14,000.

ANGELO SABELLA

OBITUARIES

Angelo Sabella Dies At 64

Angelo Sabella, whose seafood restaurant has been a popular dining place in Alto since 1951, died last night at Ross General Hospital after suffering a heart attack. He was 64.

Sabella had sustained a heart attack a year ago, but had recovered until the fatal seizure.

A native and resident of San Francisco, he was born in 1903, the fourth of 12 children of an immigrant couple from Sicily. His first visit to Marin came in 1906, when the great earthquake and fire sent his family across the bay in his father's fishing boat to a temporary tent settlement set up by the Red Cross in Tiburon.

In 1915 Angelo was at the prow of his father's boat when it won the fishing boat race around Alcatraz during the Panama International Exposition.

Sabella and his wife, Vita Re, were married in 1928. Four years later he put the family in the restaurant business when he opened a posh establishment in Santa Barbara, replete with dancing pavilion, trained seals, and of course, Sabella's seafood.

In 1940 he returned to San Francisco to run his family's restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf. He and his family opened Sabella's of Marin in 1951 just north of Richardson Bay Bridge on Highway 101. A few years later he moved the restaurant to its present location, a quarter-mile away.

Sabella's interest in seafood extended beyond his restaurants. From his earliest days he was, like his father, an avid fisherman. During his youth he also sold the Italian language newspaper, Il Vocce Del Popolo, and sold crabs on the Barbary Coast at a dime apiece.

Sabella's Restaurant has always been a family affair. Angelo's son, Luciano, who lives in San Rafael, is general manager, and his wife and daughters, Mrs. Thomas C. Marks of Greenbrae and Rosalind Sabella of San Francisco, are also active in the operation.

Other survivors include seven sisters, Mrs. Bessie Pardini, Mrs. Josephine LaTorre, Mrs. Frances Gandolfo and Mrs. Lillian Walker of San Francisco, Mrs. Florinda Bonadeo and Mrs. Eleanor Kasperzak of Larkspur and Mrs. Vivian Seaman of San Rafael; three brothers, John Sabella of Modesto and Frank and Mike Sabella of San Francisco, and six grandchildren.

Rosary will be at 8 p.m. Sunday in the chapel of Valente, Marini, Perota and Co., San Francisco. A Requiem High Mass wil be offered at 9:30 a.m. Monday. Entombment will be at Holy Cross Mausoleum, Colma.

MARIE RIDGWAY

Mrs. Marie Delores Ridgway, 59, a native of San Rafael who had lived there all her life, died last night at a local hospital following a short illness.

She made her home at 354 San Francisco Boulevard. She was office manager at the San Rafael Glass Co. for 14 years and before that, worked for other glass companies in the county. She was a member of the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

She was the widow of the late James Ridgway. She is survived by two sons, James H. Ridgway and Arnold Janet Ridgway, of San Anselmo; by three sisters and a brother, Mrs. Clementina Clayton and Mrs. Pearl Testa, of San Rafael, Mrs. Helen Hurt, Novato, and John Leonardi, San Anselmo, and by two grandchildren and nine nieces and nephews.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at Saint Anselm's Church, San Anselmo, at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

EDWARD LARSON

Edward M. Larson, 55, of San Rafael, a vice president of Seaboard Paper Co., San Francisco, died yesterday at a local hospital. He had been ill for some time.

He was a native of San Francisco. He had made his home for the past 13 years at 4 Carroll Court, with his wife, Bertha P. Larson.

He had been a paper salesman for the past 35 years and was a member of the San Francisco Club of the Printing House Craftsmen. He also was a member of the San Francisco Bowling League and a former member of the Union Square Optimist Club, San Francisco.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a son, John E. Larson, a student at San Francisco State, and a daughter, Susan Constance Larson, of San Rafael.

Funeral will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at Trinity Lutheran Church, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. Friends may call at Keaton's Mortuary until 9 a.m. Monday.

EDWARD SALVADALENA

The body of a Tiburon man, Edward R. Salvadalena, 39, who fell overboard from a sailboat on May 12 near San Francisco's Aquatic Park, was recovered from the Pacific Ocean near Half Moon Bay Sunday.

Burial was yesterday at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

A former star football player at San Jose State College, Salvadalena was sailing a 24-foot boat in a regatta and the wind gusted to 45 miles an hour, flipping him into the water.

Others in the sailboat threw him a life jacket, but by the time they turned the boat around, he had disappeared.

He was a physical therapist with an office in San Francisco, and lived at 394 Gdeenwood Beach Road, Tiburon, with his wife, Jo Anne.

He is also survived by several brothers and sisters, all in Washington State where he was born.

Non-Residence Library Fee Is Established

The Mill Valley Library board last night established a fee of $10 per family for library users living in cities not in the North Bay Co-Operative Library system.

The fee would apply in Marin to residents of Larkspur, San Anselmo and San Rafael.

The use fee is not expected to raise much money, librarian Dorothy Thomas said. But the library is in a budget squeeze this year and investigating several revenue sources.

The board agreed to ask city engineer Stanley M. Bala for a report on the library's structural soundness, to be prepared for the July meeting. Library users have commented on vibration of the floor in the main stack area.

The board's July meeting will be at 8 p.m. July 11 in the library, its usual meeting date falling on the Fourth of July.

Tiburon Fire Board Adopts $214,921 Budget

Directors of the Tiburon Fire District last night adopted a budget of $214,921, up by $27,649 from last year's figure of $187,272.

Based on the county assessor's reported estimate of 14 per cent growth anticipated in Tiburon's tax base, the board hopes the tax rate can be cut below the present 78.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation, according to Wellman H. Topham, secretary.

The budget includes $115,409 in salaries, which reflects a 5 per cent increase, plus $7,350 in cost-of-living allowances for nine firemen and $22,430 for general maintenance.

The amount of $6,404 was added to capital outlay for a paving job being done at the main firehouse on Tiburon Boulevard, but directors also trimmed that category from $28,532 to $27,082, according to Topham.

Sanitary Area Swap Completed

The San Rafael Sanitation District board last night completed its action on a swap of land with Ross Valley Sanitary District involving an adjustment of jurisdictions to coincide with the ridge line in the Bret Harte area.

The exchange will enable both districts to operate by gravity flow in the area.

The San Rafael board approved the exchange at an open hearing. It must be formally approved by the county counsel and the secretary of state.

Orig9nally the boundaries were established to coincide with the political boundaries of San Rafael and the Ross Valley.

Novato Planners Set Service Station Talk

More Deaf Classrooms Will Be Discussed

The possible construction by the Marin County Schools Department of classrooms for deaf pupils on the Adaline E. Kent School campus will be discussed by the Kentfield School District board at 8 p.m. Monday.

The county now has one class for deaf children at the school which is held in a converted storeroom. The proposal is to build four classrooms for deaf children, who are taught under a county program for handicapped youngsters.

His mother, Nancy H. Knox, 40, was treated for a scalp cut.

Three Novato Parcels Win Annexation Nod

Three separate annexations that would add about 73 acres to the City of Novato won the approval of the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission last night.

The largest parcel is the 68-acre Trumbull Avenue annex, which would bring Marin Highlands Unit 3 into the City of Novato. The area lies south of Vineyard Road. Sono-Marin Builders Inc. plans to put in about 100 homes.

The second annexation is a 4.37-acre parcel at 496 Olive Avenue, where Fernando Clementino has a warehouse and equipment storage yard. A part of the parcel is zoned agricultural, and Clementino tried unsuccessfully to get the county to rezone the entire parcel to industrial last year.

Commissioner Peter H. Behr wondered whether the owner is not trying for a "whipsaw between the county and the city to get a better deal." He said he would vote for the annexation, but suggested that matters of this kind be referred to the Marin City-County Planning Council.

Acting chairman Hugh G. Marchant at first abstained from voting because the county administrator's staff had not seen the site. But he later added his "aye" vote because three votes are needed for decision. Only Behr, Neil R. Brixon and Marchant sat on the board at the time. Commissioner Wayne Womack was present but did not participate on Novato matters because he is from Novato.

Third parcel approved for annexation to Novato is a strip of land in Loma Verde, used as a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. easement. The parcel, less than an acre, lies south of Ignacio Boulevard and north of Alameda De La Loma. Owner Walter Kieckhefer said the parcel is unbuildable because it has high tension wires, but he wants it as an access to the parking area for an apartment development.

The Local Agency Formation Commission Also:

AVERY-WARREN ANNEX — Approved the annexation of two parcels of land on Beacon Hill, Sausalito, to the Marin Municipal Water District. The lands, less than one acre, are owned by Martha S. Avery of San Anselmo and Frank W. Warren of Newport Beach. The area lies south of Wolfback Ridge, near Cloudview Trail.

ANNEXATION POLICY — Heard from executive officer John F. Barrows that it would be illegal to require a developer in an unincorporated area to annex to a contiguous city before the county processes development plans. Novato had asked for such a policy, pointing out that if an area will ultimately become a part of the city, that city should get in on planning from the outset. Commissioners referred the matter to the Marin City-County Planning Council for a report and recommendation on how annexation to adjacent cities can be encouraged through other legal means.

SEWER PLANS — Asked that the sanitary districts submit their response to the Brown and Caldwell sewer study at the earliest possible date.

NEXT MEETING — Set the next meeting for July 11 because the regular meeting date would fall on July 4. Meeting time will be 8 p.m. instead of 7:30 p.m. hereafter.

Homeowners Move For Non-Profit Status

Loch Lomond Homeowners Association directors have voted unanimously to amend the association's articles of incorporation in order to qualify as a nonprofit organization for tax purposes.

The directors, meeting at San Pedro School Wednesday, also urged homeowners associations along Point San Pedro Road to petition the county public works department to provide landscaping alongside the road as it is widened. The county plans to landscape only the median divider, reported association president Andrew J. Ring.

The next board meeting will be 8 p.m. Sept. 4 at the school.

Car Stealing Denied By San Franciscan

An 18-year-old San Francisco youth pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to car theft.

Preliminary hearing for Robert Alfred Porter was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. July 11. He is accused of stealing a car from Susan B. More of San Francisco before wrecking it April 22 on Shoreline Highway.

Pop Artist Warhol Is Still Critical

NEW YORK (AP) — Pop artist Andy Warhol is in slightly improved condition at Columbus Hospital but doctors say he is still critical.

Warhol, 36, and a British art gallery owner, Mario Amaya, were shot Monday in Warhol's offices.

Valeria Solanis, 28, an actress who reportedly appeared in a Warhol produced film, "I, a Man," has been charged with felonious assault and possession of a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

She has been ordered to Bellevue Hospital for a complete psychiatric examination.

Miss Solanis gave herself up to a Times Square traffic policemen Monday night. She told police, "I am a flower child. He (Warhol) had too much control over my life."

Warhol gained fame as a painter of Campbell soup cans, a sculptor of Brillo boxes and the producer of an eight-hour long film of the Empire State Building.

Youth Denies Guilt In Burglary Case

Robert C. Baldi, 18, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to burglary. Preliminary hearing was scheduled for July 9.

Baldi, of no fixed address, is accused of burgling an apartment house at 150 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, on May 24.

Workers Claim Slur On Kennedy

FREMONT (AP)—An alleged slurring remark about the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy halted production at the big General Motors assembly plant here.

Most of nearly 3,000 workers walked out yesterday after union spokesmen claimed a foreman said Kennedy "got what he dserved."

G.M. public relations director Stan Maddox and the foreman, Ben Haidle, both denied that the alleged remark had been made.

Denny Lemond, a top official of the United Auto Workers, insisted however, that Haidle had said it after workers asked repeatedly for permission to take the day off because of Kennedy's death.

LAST OF THE ARKS

Grant Jones works on the ark Pickleweed which he hopes to make seaworthy enough to withstand a voyage soon to the Sacramento Delta region. The ark, which he bought for $200, was formerly in the Corte Madera Creek above Bon Air Bridge, where the flood control project has forced removal of arks. At present, Jones has it tied up at Boardwalk One in Larkspur, where he has run afoul of a city ruling against arks. The city council has agreed, however, to allow him a month to get it ready for a bay cruise. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Court Frees Prisoner For Retrial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — William J. Bowie was temporarily — and legally — on the outside today after seven years in San Quentin Prison and expressed confidence he won't be going back.

The 54-year-old Bowie, imprisoned for stabbing a fellow hotel resident, was released under a court order yesterday, pending an appeal hearing.

"It feels good to be out," said Bowie as he met attorney Loris Brin Walker for the first time since she began a three-year legal battle for a new trial. They had transacted all their business by mail.

"I'm going to get a job as a boilermaker and I'm confident I'll win complete freedom," he predicted.

In 1961, Superior Court Judge Harry H. Neubarth, a in a trial without a jury, found Bowie guilty of assault with a deadly weapon against Peter Coletsos ten year term.
ten hear term.

Bowie's wife also was stabbed, but this charge was dismissed.

In November, 1967, U.S. Dist. Court Judge A. J. Zirpoli granted Bowie a writ of habeas corpus on grounds he hadn't been allowed to cross-examine Coletsos and not been properly instructed before testifying in his own defense.

The state attorney general's office appealed the order to the U.S. Court of Appeals which yesterday ordered Bowie be released on his own recognizance pending further action.

EXPERT'S OPINION

U.S. Prison Roles Confuse Inmates

By DON BRANNING

The American prison system, in which an inmate doesn't know whether the prison administrators are his jailers or his therapists, doesn't seem to be working very well, a University of California criminology professor told the San Quentin Inmate Advisory Council last night.

Dr. Calib Foote, a professor of law and criminology at Berkeley, who served two Federal prison terms as a conscientious objector during World War II, spoke at the council's annual dinner meeting at the prison.

He said the U.S. system of law and prisons decided about 100 years ago to try to combine the concepts of punishment and help for convicts.

Examples of this, he said, are the parole officer who is both a supervising policeman and a support to the parolee, and the indeterminate sentence, which lets a felon out early if he has been a good prisoner.

"I have no idea what the solutions are," he said. "It is extraordinarily complex. Most of what I read about it is very simplistic."

But he noted that, in the Scandinavian countries, sentences and help to the convict are more or less divorced from each other. The sentences for crimes are relatively fixed in those countries, he said, and the therapists who work with the convicts have no other goal but to help them.

"When you go to a lawyer or a doctor, he has no purpose but to help you," said Foote. "We have tried to mix the two, and that is the trouble we are running into."

Foote told the inmates and their guests that the one thing he could state optimistically and definitely was that the situation has been getting plenty of attention in research and court decisions. "I think we will continue to see a really dedicated intellectual attack on it," he said.

From his own experience in prison, Foote said, he has decided that much of the energy going into the prison systems is "a colossal waste of human life and effort."

College Official Decries 'Chicken Little' Attitude

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — College students "are not kids" and cannot be forced to behave, says Robert R. Smith, new president of San Francisco State College.

"It seems to me a lot of people have a 'Chicken Little' syndrome running around crying that the sky is falling and that youth is trying to pull it down," he told an interviewer.

One of the keys to dealing with demonstrators "is to be able to respond to the basic needs that underlie their behavior, and not to their specific actions," he said.

"I was very dismayed last December when for several days after demonstrations nobody talked about the broad motives and the educational aspirations that they represented," Smith added.

Death Row Not Emptied By 'Hanging Jury' Decision

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Quentin Prison's 77 Death Row inhabitants did not automatically win a reduction of sentence Monday when the Supreme Court of the United States ruled against so-called "hanging juries."

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch today informed the state's district attorneys that each case will have to be dealt with individually.

(Lynch's statement on the Supreme Court decision backed an opinion by Marin County Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, reported in Wednesday's Independent-Journal.

(Bales said it has not been a practice in Marin County for several years to exclude people from capital case juries if they have only general objections to the death penalty. They are excluded in Marin County only if they say they would not vote for a death penalty under any circumstances, said Bales.)

On Monday the Supreme Court held, in the case of Witherspoon vs. Illinois, that a death sentence may not be imposed by a jury from which persons opposed to the death penalty have automatically been excluded.

Lynch said the key word as far as California convictions were concerned was "automatically." Illinois automatically excludes persons with scruples against the death penalty. In California further questioning is undertaken when a prospective juror says he is against the death penalty.

Lynch's office said Monday it could not be sure how California would be affected until it had read the supreme court opinion.

"We conclude from the opinion," the letter to district attorneys said, "that no prospective juror should be challenged or excused for cause on account of his views in opposition to the death penalty unless he answers affirmatively one or more of the following three questions:

"1. Are your views on the death penalty such as would prevent you from making an impartial decision as to the defendant's guilt?

"2. Are your views such that you could never vote to impose the death penalty?

"3. Are your views such that you would refuse even to consider imposing the death penalty in this case?"

The letter said that if any of these questions were answered in the affirmative, the prospective juror might be subject to challenge for cause.

"The Witherspoon standards may or may not have been met in individual cases in California already tried," the letter, signed by Lynch and Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris, Jr., said. "Individual cases in which death sentences have already been passed will be dealt with in the appropriate tribunals."

The letter also suggested that in capital trials now in progress, if the jury examination did not meet the Witherspoon requirements, it might be necessary to get a new and different jury for the penalty trial, if one was necessary.

The attorney general said the Supreme Court ruling was "fully retroactive" and that persons under the sentence of death imposed by juries now held to have been improperly selected are entitled to reversals of their death sentences.

"However, the validity of the conviction itself is not impaired," the letter said.

The attorney general would make no estimate as to how many Death Row inmates might get new penalty trials under the Witherspoon ruling.

Officer Seating Date Selected

The Marin City Homeowners and Improvement Association has set installation of officers for 8 p.m. July 3 at the Manzanita Community Center. Installation was scheduled for last Sunday, but was postponed due to illnesses and absences.

Officers to be installed are Juanita Cobb, president; Mrs. Lincoln Simpson, first vice president; Mrs. Alex Holloway, second vice president; Mrs. Alex Benson, third vice president and historian; Mrs. Mack H. Page, secretary, and Willie C. Hall, treasurer.

The association, setting the installation Wednesday, also discussed a membership drive.

Republican Central Committee Filled

Mrs. John Streiff of Greenbrae and Edward Lathrop of Novato have been elected members of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, chairman Charles Michals announced.

Mrs. Streiff, precinct chairman for the Second Supervisorial District, was elected to fill the unexpired term of E. D. Ward, who left the post following his recent appointment as a state inheritance tax appraiser. Lathrop replaced W. A. Lehigh, who resigned because of business commitments.

Harriman Expected To See LBJ During Kennedy Rites

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, flying to New York for the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, will confer with President Johnson on the stalemated Vietnam talks, informed American sources said today.

With Hanoi marking time until the U.S. political situation clarifies, Harriman and deputy negotiator Cyrus Vance were flying to New York for Kennedy's funeral tomorrow. The American sources said Harriman hoped to talk with Johnson either in New York or Washington.

Hanoi also was awaiting the outcome of military developments in Vietnam before getting down to serious negotiations. The Viet Cong heavily shelled Saigon again today and political observers believed the attack was carried out largely to make propaganda for the Paris talks since the attacks had little military value. (See story, page 1.)

So far in the talks Xuan Thuy, North Vietnam's chief negotiator, has struck rigidly to his demand that all U.S. bombing and "other acts of war" against the north stop unconditionally before progress can be made. Harriman has just as firmly insisted that the North Vietnamese reciprocate by showing some restraint on their side.

The negotiators' aim is to lower the level of hostilities in Vietnam enough to permit formal peace talks to begin. The effort has been deadlocked since May 13, the date of the first of seven sessions held so far.

TINY PLANES, BIG SKIES

Marin Pilot Revives Aviation's Golden Age With His Miniplane

By GLENN BECKER

Commercial aircraft are so huge these days they resemble neighborhoods-with-wings, but a devoted group of veteran pilots in Northern California and around the nation still finds a place in the air for the tiny craft that marked the pioneer days of aviation.

They are members of the Experimental Aircraft Association and the Antique Aircraft Association, national groups with local chapters in Northern California.

Dr. Ted J. Schuster, San Rafael dentist who started flying when he was still in high school in Wenatchee, Wash., and flew in the Army Air Corps during World War II, is a member of both groups and president of the Marin Pilots Association.

Schuster flies a 680-pound Smith Miniplane, a bright-red biplane so tiny it would look more at home in a garage or a closet than in a hangar. The EAA will be exhibiting planes like this during a three-day hobby show sponsored by the Oakland Recreation Department.

Schuster's plane is based at the Sonoma Valley Airport in Schellville, just south of Sonoma. Two other Marin members of the EAA have planes there. They are Robert M. Sebring of Tiburon and Capt. Robert Davis, an airline pilot from San Rafael.

Sebring is building a four-fifths-scale replica of a World War I SE-5 English fighter plane. Davis owns an aerobatic plane.

Many of the experimental buffs build replicas, Schuster explained, according to regulations of the Federal Aeronautics Administration allowing private construction. "The FAA has the specifications and they are more than cooperative."

Schuster estimates that there are perhaps as many as 30,000 aficionados of the antiques and experimentals throughout the United States. Not all of them fly the planes.

What sort of person takes up this unusual avocation? "One who can't stand golf," joked the San Rafael dentist.

"The fellows who do this sort of thing are men who have flown for several years. Many are airline pilots, so they have many thousands of hours.

"We usually fly away from the airways, for freedom of flight rather than point-to-point flying.

"We try to keep alive the golden age of aviation from the mid-20s through 1935-40. The standard aircraft of today you can't spin because they're not stressed for that sort of thing. The planes of the 20s and 30s were stressed to eight or nine Gs and you could do spins, loops, slow rolls—any kind of aerobatics."

"Gs" are multiples of the force of gravity. Schuster said that his plane is stressed up to 10 Gs "both ways," meaning that the wings can withstand that much stress from above or below. This strength allows aerobatical stunts.

Schuster and his cohorts service and repair their planes, but he noted that the inspection by the FAA is much more rigorous than for standard private planes.

The private flying version of the auto rally is the fly-in. Bay Area Chapter 20 of the EAA will hold its next fly-in June 16 at the Schellville airport. The chapter will honor Mrs. Ethel Kibbee of Alameda on the 50th anniversary of her solo flight across the U.S., the first by a woman.

The EAA holds a national fly-in annually at Rockford, Ill. Schuster attended it three years ago, but "we have such good fly-ins in California it's not necessary to go back there."

A hen's world record for laying is 361 eggs in 365 days.

Hruska To Get Kuchel Post?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska is favored to win the Senate Republicans' No. 2 leadership post in the next Congress, succeeding Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, unhorsed in the California primary this week.

The post of assistant leader, or GOP whip, will be vacant because Kuchel failed to win renomination in the primary Tuesday.

The vacancy will be filled by Republican senators when the new Congress convenes in January.

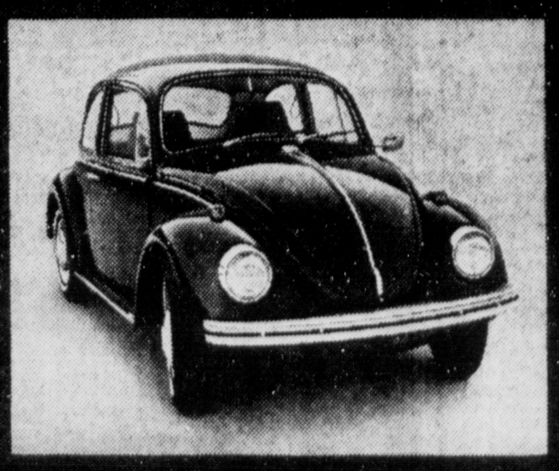
The Volkswagen for people who refuse to drive Volkswagens.



If you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because it's ugly, we can't help you.

If you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because you have eight kids and it isn't big enough, you have our sympathy.

If you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because it isn't fancy enough, that's for you to decide.

But if you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because you're used to an automatic transmission, listen carefully.

Now you can drive a Volkswagen all over town without shifting.

We call this new option the automatic stick shift.

And in true Volkswagen fashion, a bug with an automatic stick shift will deliver up to 25 miles on a gallon of gas, use very little oil, and nary a drop of water or antifreeze.

But just because we've made it easy to drive, doesn't mean we're about to make it any prettier, or any bigger, or any fancier. So we imagine some people will still refuse to drive Volkswagens.

You can't win them all.

Hub Council Sharpens Scissors For Parks, Recreation Budgets

In the first of four scheduled budget sessions, the San Anselmo City Council last night mulled over tentative figures for the parks and recreation, library, and chamber of commerce portions of its 1968-69 expenses.

The council clearly indicated it plans to shoot down much of the parks and recreation department's requests, but will probably go along with chamber and library proposals, and said it will not make decisions on budget items until the final meeting at 7:45 p.m. June 20.

The total, proposed budget is $1,008,237, about 17 per cent lower than the current budget of $1,214,652. The city's present tax rate is $2.06 per $100 assessed valuation.

A major portion of last night's lengthy discussion dealt with the requests of Frank L. Quinn, director of parks and recreation, for a new budget of $88,097 for parks, and $44,988 for recreation next year.

The figures compare with $31,952 for parks and $31,771 for recreation recommended to the council by Alfred C. Kaeppel, city administrator-controller. This year's parks budget is $23,160 and the current recreation budget, $29,130.

In good humor, Quinn frankly admitted to the council more than once that he inflated both figures in the expectation that it would help in a compromise with the council over a final figure. Quinn also conceded that some items are duplicated in the two sets of figures.

The council, with Kenneth L. Anderson absent, studied every parks and recreation item in detail and indicated that Kaeppel's calculations are more likely to be accepted.

A big difference in the park estimations by the two men included Quinn's request for $43,500 for upgrading Memorial Park, installing irrigation there and along Butterfield Road, an initial payment of $10,000 for a teen center building, and starting a master plan for Memorial Park, none of which were recommended by Kaeppel.

Quinn also asked $19,612 for landscape gardening for the downtown Hub area, Robson Park, Butterfield Road, and Memorial Park. Kaeppel had allowed $11,312 for the landscaping.

For recreation, Quinn is seeking $5,000 for hiring of sportsdirectors and officials for seasonal activities, and $1,200 for the city's 10 per cent portion of salaries for part-time student labor with the department.

The federal government would pay the 90 per cent remainder at $1.67 an hour total, Quinn said. The council indicated favoring only about $400 as the city's portion, however.

Presenting the library departments request for $53,842, compared to $51,822 this year, was Col. Reuben W. Smith Jr. of the library board. Only difference in his figure and that of Kaeppel was $2,000 for additional purchase of books, and Kaeppel had made this difference available to the library in another portion of his budget.

He said the library request was the only department which closely matched his own calculations.

Colonel Smith said 200 library books were lost, stolen or worn out this year, and need replacement. He also said there is a 15 per cent cost increase for book purchases about every two years.

William Franchini, president of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, and William A. Trewhella, secretary-manager, requested $4,335 in city funds next year. They pointed out that the city gave them $3,500 for this year, but also made a donation for Christmas activities and that some of that money was returned to the council.

To simplify matters, Franchini asked for $835 in addition to the $3,500 for next year, to be used for Christmas activities. The council indicated the total figure would be satisfactory if a refund would be made if and when the chamber doesn't complete its projects.

The council adjourned its budget study until 7:45 p.m. Monday, when it will consider the fire, police, and general government budgets. The third study session will be at 7:45 p.m. on June 18, and the final, decision-making session June 20. All sessions are at the council chambers.

Chamber Surveys Vacant Stores In Hub Area

A survey of empty stores in downtown San Anselmo has been completed and information about rents and square footage is being given to real estate agents, William A. Trewhella, secretary-manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce reported to members yesterday.

Trewhella said that six of the 19 empty stores have now been rented and that there are prospective renters for some of the others.

Earlier in the week chamber members met with a representative of the federal Small Business Administration to discuss forming a corporation so that SBA loans can be obtained for sprucing up downton San Anselmo.

James F. Reed, chairman of this project for the chamber, said that through such a corporation low-interest financing would be available to businessmen for remodeling.

Sacramento Correspondent Edwin S. Capps, 43, Dies

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Edwin S. Capps, veteran newsman and partner in the Capitol News Service, died yesterday in a hospital here, one day after being stricken with a heart seizure.

Capps, 43, was widely known both as a political writer and columnist on fish and game and outdoor sports. His writings frequently appeared in the Independent-Journal. He had been with Capitol News Service 11 years, after working for newspapers in Nevada, publishing a Lake Tahoe paper and working in Sacramento for United Press International. He was graduated from the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

Capps was a native of Locota, Mich., where his parents still reside. He served in North Africa with the Army during World War II.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, on learning of Capps' death, said, "I knew him always as a gentleman and as one of the ablest and most highly respected members of his craft.

"His work, as both a political writer and outdoor sports writer, has long been a credit to the field of journalism, and I know that I share the feelings of his many colleagues and friends that his presence will be sorely missed."

Capps is survived by his wife, Betty, and their children, Kenneth, Steven and Katherine, at the family home here.

Funeral services are pending.

'Turn In Gun' Week Announced

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto has proclaimed "Turn in Your Gun" week, starting July 4.

"I know of no greater way of commemorating Sen. (Robert F.) Kennedy than by this positive act," he said yesterday.

Speaking before a large flag draped with black memorial ribbons, the mayor urged San Franciscans to turn in all hand guns at various police stations, with "no questions asked."

Police Chief Thomas Cahill called the mayor's proposal "a wonderful idea."

Japanese Students Protest At Embassy

TOKYO (AP) — An estimated 600 Zengakuren students clashed with riot police in downtown Tokyo today when they tried to force their way into the U.S. Embassy, protesting the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Police said about 140 rock throwing students were arrested on charges of obstructing police duties.

DAN DURYEA
Famed for heel roles

Screen Star Dan Duryea Dies At 61

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mild mannered Dan Duryea, famed for his movie and television portrayals of a heel with sex appeal, died today following a long illness. He was 61.

His long career began on Broadway and continued for more than 25 years in Hollywood, during which he appeared in nearly 60 theater films and more than 75 TV shows. Duryea was pronounced dead at his hilltop home by his personal physician. He had collapsed in the bathroom while dressing, a fire department spokesman said.

A servant who heard a thud found the actor on the floor and summoned a fire department rescue squad, but the physician arrived first.

A soft spoken man who loved children, flowers and sailing craft, Duryea, as an actor was typed almost immediately as a menace. His fans fought the few efforts he made to change his acting image.

His recent work included the part of Eddie Jacks in "Payton Place," a wandering confidence man who returns 19 years after deserting his wife. He joined the television show as guest star in August 1967.

Duryea's last movies included "Flight of the Phoenix," "River of Dollars," "Five Golden Dragons" and "The Bamboo Saucer."

The actor lived quietly in a Hollywood hilltop house and rarely attended parties or visited nightclubs. His wife of 36 years, Helen Bryan, died in 1967. They had two sons, Peter, now 28, an actor, and Richard, 25, a talent manager now touring with the Beach Boys.

Sanitary District Boards Oppose Proposed Merger

Directors of the Corte Madera and Ross Valley sanitary districts decided at a joint meeting last night that a merger of the two districts is not feasible.

The big difference in the tax rates of the districts is the main stumbling block, according to Ralph C. Noah, manager of the Ross Valley district. The present rates are 11 cents per $100 assessed valuation in Ross Valley and 85.5 cents in the Corte Madera district.

Noah said that Ross Valley directors felt they could not ask their taxpayers to pay a higher rate which would be necessary in case of a merger.

The other financial block to the consolidation is that Ross Valley has no bonded indebtedness now but will probably propose a bond measure soon. Corte Madera directors felt they could not get support for such a bond election in the Corte Madera area.

The directors did decide, however, that possibly Ross Valley could contract for more services in the Corte Madera district. At the present Ross Valley has a contract for sewage treatment for Corte Madera.

The proposed merger was considered by the two districts at the order of the local agency formation commission. The Town of Corte Madera wants to annex the Corte Madera Sanitary District, but the LAFC directed that a merger of the two sanitary districts be explored first.

Printing type was invented in China.

Trustee Stands Pat On Criticism After College Faculty Protest

Marin Junior College District trustees and faculty leader Samuel Schwartz restoked the ashes of their bitter springtime feud during the board meeting last night, with Trustee Theodore C. Wellman refusing to retract his denunciation of "reprehensible behavior of faculty and student leaders."

Schwartz, political science teacher and president of the College of Marin Academic Senate, stated he had been instructed by that body to communicate its displeasure at Wellman's charge, made in a letter of resignation in April, which the trustee later withdrew.

Though Schwartz expressed doubts about the future of faculty-trustee cooperation in view of Wellman's stand, he and the board, along with other teachers, had just finished a lengthy discussion of faculty proposals to augment student representation on college committees.

The board was three and a half hours into a meeting which would not end until after midnight, when Schwartz, speaking on behalf of the Senate, asked Wellman for an explanation of his statement about "reprehensible behavior."

Board Chairman Elizabeth M. Deedy, who had resigned along with Wellman and then also returned, attempted to forestall a resumption of hostilities between Wellman and Schwartz, which had boiled over in the recent battle over Supt. William K. Ramstad.

Ramstad also resigned and has not withdrawn his resignation.

Schwartz stated that if Wellman did not make an explanation he would be forced to write letters to Wellman and the board expressing faculty displeasure. Mrs. Deedy said she saw no purpose in a "personal debate," then asked Wellman if he wished to say anything.

Wellman said he would not change or retract his statement that had offended the faculty, "with respect to the period it refers to. It does not pertain to the present or the future.

"I would say that my return to the board was with considerable reluctance. I know my wife would have been delighted had I not done so, but I was asked by members of the community and of the board to return.

"It is my hope to continue to serve the college and the (College of Marin) Foundation. But if I find my aims to serve are obstructed or that I am out of step with the times, I will retire."

Schwartz then expressed his doubts about the future, but Mrs. Deedy and Trustee Robert Rogers urged that college officials and faculty concentrate henceforth on future progress rather than past hostilities.

Faculty spokesman Schwartz said he expected the board to act on the proposals on student representation on college committees, but the board refused to do so without an administration recommendation to consider.

The discussion that followed Schwartz's unhappy acceptance of this position focused on the possibility that students without previous college experience might be appointed by the student government to committees, especially to the important instructional committee. Schwartz and other faculty members were outspoken in their praise of student contributions to the committees.

Youths Accused Of Mill Valley Laundry Burglary

Two Marin City youths were held on $3,750 bail apiece today after the burglary of a Mill Valley self-service laundry early today.

James Ulton Copening Jr. of 20 Burgess Court and Morson Smith of 307 Drake Avenue, both 19 years old each were booked for investigation of burglary, carrying a concealed weapon and illegal possession of a knife.

A witness saw the burglary in progress at 12:25 a.m. at 336 Miller Avenue and gave police a description of the car involved. A bulletin was issued and at 4:49 a.m. Sausalito Patrolman Ben F. Barrett stopped Copening's car in the 1800 block on Bridgeway.

Barrett said he found a .25 caliber pistol in the glove compartment. While the two were being booked at county jail, each reportedly was found to be carrying a knife with a blade longer than three inches, a violation of a county ordinance.

The burglars broke open a soft drink machine at the laundry and carried off the coin box and coin changing mechanism.

Chamber Aids Novato Youth Seeking Jobs

Novato Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday agreed to act as a clearing house for the summer youth job campaign, Mrs. Billie Garl, chamber secretary, reported.

The chamber will handle requests from youngsters seeking summer work and businessmen with jobs, Mrs. Garl said. Gov. Ronald Reagan has requested all chambers of commerce throughout the state to participate in the summer youth job campaign, she said.

The chamber board also heard a presentation from the Novato Citizens Beautification Committee on the proposed paint-up program for downtown businesses.

The chamber took no action on the program but George Barnwell, chamber president-elect, indicated he would appoint a committee soon to work with the beautification committee.

New officers will be installed at a dinner dance on June 22 at the Hamilton Air Force Base officers club. Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, will be the featured speaker, Mrs. Garl said.

Marin Judges Offer Tributes To Kennedy

Two Marin County judges adjourned their courts yesterday with brief eulogies to slain Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Superior Court told his jury and officers of the court that the administration of justice and protection of the individual's rights in relationship to society are a significant part of the American system to which the senator had devoted his life.

"I think it a proper respect to his memory if we here resolve that not by word, thought or deed will we impair or destroy the principles which we seek to live by in these proceedings and which underlie the American system which Senator Kennedy lived, worked and died for," he said.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein in Municipal Court said he is ashamed, frightened and sickened by the assassination.

"Another voice has been stilled, a voice that cried out for the poor, the jobless, the mentally ill, the minorities," he said. "From where is the inspiration for good deeds to come if those who are most effective in the cause of decency and justice are to become the target of an assassin?

"There are those among us who cry out for new and more repressive laws, but Robert Kennedy understood that the violence which is so prevalent in our society is not produced by weak laws, lax law enforcement or by affluence, but rather by economic, social and political injustice that suffocates and frustrates large segments of our population."

Body Is Found Underneath Span

The body of a man was found floating underneath the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday.

The victim was identified by the San Francisco coroner's office as Chester H. Moork, 55, a sales manager for Pacific Foundry.

The Coast Guard at Fort Point was notified at 4:52 p.m. that a Philippine freighter, President Quezon, had reported the body.

No note was found in his car parked at Vista Point, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The coroner's office said Moork is survived by a brother, Elmer Moork, of Seattle, Wash.

Picnic Is Postponed Due To RFK's Death

The picnic was rescheduled for 1:30 p.m. June 30. The church will recognize the death of Kennedy in services Sunday at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m.

Preston Defense On; Phone Talk Recalled

Johnson, a criminologist with the state Department of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

Johnson told the jury that Shirley Ackley, 34, was found lying on a dull green living room carpet, shot, stabbed, raped and strangled. At her feet was a blue-green throw rug.

The T-shirt and trousers Preston wore when arrested contained fibers from each of those rugs, Johnson said. There was also a thin blood stain on Preston's trousers, he said, but it was impossible to tell if the blood was human or animal.

Edwin Verzyl, attorney for Preston, extracted from the criminologist an admission that he does not know how many rugs of this type have been made.

Johnson also conceded he cannot be absolutely certain the rug fibers were not transferred to Preston's clothing by another person or object which had been in contact with the rugs.

Johnson said he also found fibers from the throw rug on the T-Shirt and trousers of Sommerhalder, 24, of Rohnert Park. Sommerhalder is to be tried separately.

Two bullets taken from the head of 27-year-old Curtis Ackley are identical to slugs test fired from a .32 caliber revolver found in Preston's bedroom two days after the murders, Johnson said.

The other two bullets from his head and two from Mrs. Ackley's were too badly damaged for comparison, Johnson said.

No blood was found on Sommerhalder's clothing, he added.

With the completion of Johnson's testimony, Bales told the jury they have heard the prosecution's case.

Verzyl, attorney for Preston, immediately rose to his feet to tell the panel of eight women and four men that Preston will prove his innocence.

"We will offer evidence that the .32 Smith and Wesson, purportedly the murder weapon, was stolen from the Ackley trailer house the night before the murder by the state's witness Richard Sommerhalder," he said.

Richard Sommerhalder then gave the revolver to his brother, Johnny Sommerhalder, Verzyl said.

In the presence of several witnesses, John Sommerhalder displayed the weapon in the Santa Rosa cabin shared by Preston and Ronald Edward Long the night before the killing, he added.

That night, John Sommerhalder and Long met secretly in the cabin's back bedroom for five or 10 minutes, Verzyl claimed. When they emerged, John Sommerhalder left the cabin, taking the .32 with him, the attorney said.

Verzyl said he will prove that Preston's bedroom was occupied by Sommerhalder in the early morning hours after the Ackley murders. This accounts for the presence of the murder weapon in that bedroom, he said.

John Sommerhalder, Verzyl said, knew Long was a fence in the Santa Rosa area and brought the fruits of his burglary at the Ackley trailer house to the cabin to sell. Verzyl promised to produce a bill of sale, signed by Long, transferring ownership of the weapons stolen from the Ackley trailer.

What's more he said, "a grossly disproportionate number of the weapons introduced as evidence in this trial were, in fact, owned for many months by Kenneth Preston," he said.

The fact that officers were shot at when seeking to arrest Sommerhalder and Preston at the Santa Rosa cabin, can be explained by the fact that the men inside thought, until they heard a burst from a machine gun, that they were being attacked by a rival motorcycle gang, Verzyl said.

Both Preston and Sommerhalder were members of the Grim Reapers.

The position of the bodies and the angle the bullets entered Curtis and Shirley Ackley will show that a right-handed person fired the gun. Preston is left handed, he said.

"Finally, we will show that you cannot force a particular factual situation into a framework of first degree murder," Verzyl said.

His first three witnesses yesterday were long-time neighbors of the Preston family in Santa Rosa. They all identified weapons and a gun rack, which friends of the slain couple said came from their trailer house, as property Preston owned months before the killings.

Judy Jacobs, who grew up with Preston, hefted a .22 caliber revolver and identified it as the accused youth's. She knew it by his initials and a bird carved into the handle, she said.

Dennis Ripple, another neighbor and lifelong friend, said he had seen Preston shoot his guns. He fired left handed, Ripple said.

Hilarita Plan Explained At Hearing

An audience of 20 persons last night heard a Tiburon City Council committee review questions and answers on a moderate-income housing proposal for Hilarita, according to City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose.

Councilman Thomas E. Drohan and Mayor William R. Bremer discussed with Marin County Housing Authority Director Donald O. Stutsman and Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., details of a proposal for about 50 moderate income housing units and 12 single-family lots, for Hilarita when present structures are demolished in 1972.

Moderate income rents at Hilarita would range from $121 for one bedroom apartments for families with an income of not more than $6,059, to $187 for four-bedroom units for families with incomes of not more than $11,250. Rental figures include utility costs.

At Monday's council meeting, a final public hearing on Hilarita will be reset. It was originally schedule for May 27, then postponed to June 10, but will be put over again in order to fully prepare answers to questions by councilmen and citizens, it was announced by Drohan.

$350 Diamond Ring Taken In Burglary

A $350 diamond ring was taken in a burglary yesterday at the home of Gordon E. Dresser, 40 Jewell Street, San Rafael.

Police said the burglar gained entry between 6 a.m. and 9 p.m. yesterday by removing a screen covering a bathroom window at the rear of the home, breaking the window and climbing in. The ring was in a jewelry box in a bedroom dresser drawer.

Rail Tunnel Upkeep Trial Continuing

Testimony in a non-jury trial to determine who has responsibility for maintenance and repair of the long-abandoned Woodacre railroad tunnel under White's Hill went into its third day today in Marin Superior Court.

The suit, before Judge Thomas F. Keating, was filed Sept. 8, 1966, by the County of Marin and named 29 defendants alleged to have title, right-of-way or some other interest in property in that vicinity.

The county, which has interest in a portion of the land, charges that the defendants should share responsibilities proportionate to their interests. The defendants, according to the suit, maintain the county should have full upkeep responsibility.

The 2,475-foot-long tunnel was built in 1903 by North Shore Railroad Co., which merged with Northwestern Pacific Railroad in 1907. It was abandoned July 31, 1933, and has been closed at both ends because of landslides.

The county declares it still is a menace to life and property unless properly maintained, however.

Defendants include the estate of John T. Rapp, deceased, Lagunitas Development Co., Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America, Inc., Pacific Gas and Electric Co., and Bothin Convalescent Home.

Lacquer from Vietnam is of such high quality it is used for mixing with other lacquers to improve their quality.

To Study Budget

The Novato Sanitary District's 1968-69 preliminary operating budget will be submitted to the sanitary board Monday by Dist. Mgr. Charles A. Joseph. The board will meet at 6 p.m. in the North Marin County Water District offices, 999 Atherton Avenue, Novato.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Restaurant Is Scheduled For Kaehler-Farrar Building

Downtown San Rafael will have another major restaurant sometime this summer.

Exact name of the dinery is uncertain — but not the location. It will be on the fourth floor of the Kaehler-Farrar Building at Fourth and C streets, which at one time housed the Redwood Club.

To distinguish it from the Executive Health Club of Marin, with which it is associated — also scheduled for the Kaehler-Farrar Building, it may be called the Executive Room or something entirely different. The club, a private membership organization for men on the fourth floor, will open in July or August. The restaurant, bar and lounge will be open to the general public.

Owner of both operations is a corporation headed by Donald E. Bernard of Sausalito. He presently owne Scrooge's Bar in North Beach, San Francisco, an English pub and popular gathering place for many top entertainers, but is selling out at the end of the month in order to give all his time to the San Rafael project.

The Executive Room, or whatever it may be called, will serve both lunches and dinners on a limited menu — mostly broiler items, steaks, steak sandwiches and so on. Prices will be in the moderate range — from 85 cents to about $2.50 for lunch, and from $2.75 to $3.95 for dinner, including salad, vegetable and perhaps dessert.

Customers at the Executive Room bar will be able to look out on Fourth Street and the back bar will be by the windows.

The men's health club, which will soon be open for memberships, will have a well-equipped gymnasium with various work-out facilities, sauna rooms, showers, locker rooms and a private lounge. Both the club and the Executive Room are expected to open the latter part of July or during the first week of August.

Later it is anticipated that a women's health club will be opened, also a barbershop. But the women will not have to wait their turn to share the men's club facilities on certain days of the week. There is plenty of room for separate operations everyday.

HIGH ON THE LIST of relaxing places to visit for good food these mid-year evenings is the dining room at Oak Tree Inn in San Geronimo.

If San Geronimo conjures up in your mind the thought of a long trip before settling down for dinner, you're not tuned to the right spot.

The Oak Tree is only a five-mile jaunt over White's Hill from Fairfax through West Marin country. In fact, it's the first restaurant on the west side of the hill where you can order dinner. Just remember to turn left at Nicasio Road and the San Geronimo National Golf Course instead of right. And then make a right turn on the old San Geronimo Valley Drive and follow it for a couple of hundred yards.

While undoubtedly there is no definite working agreement between them, the dining room at the golf club does not serve dinners and the Oak Tree does not serve lunches and it's a convenient arrangement.

Dinner guests at the Oak Tree, far from being confined to the local residents, are made up of dwellers from all over Marin and also outside the county. Evening meals are served Wednesdays through Sundays. The dining room has a capacity of 50 or 60 — just large enough for comfort without having the tables spaced close together.

For almost three years, owners Ray and Dee Brunal have shared duties — he at the bar and she in the dining room, where she is the linguistic that you can order in Spanish, Polish or Russian, if need be.

One of the Oak Tree's biggest assets is its chef Harry Zimlin, who spent 40 years of his life in Australia. His soup is superb. And if you order his Russian cabbage rolls you'll be fully convinced he has a fine cooking talent. Featured menu items include chicken provencale, cacciatore, veal scallopine, shrimps a l'Armorcaine, beef brochette, lamb chops and steaks. Also steak and lobster combination, which came out of Australia just about the time Harry did — maybe there's a connection. Naturally he uses Australian lobster tails.

If you have been looking for an unpretentious place to "discover" in your dining rounds — discover this one.

DON JOHNSON broke through the wall for his expansion of the London Arms this week and hopes to have this English pub and restaurant on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile completely enlarged and remodeled by the middle of the month.

Don's beverage department now features seven different draft beers — including English and Australian, naturally.

FEATURED in the May issue of Hospitality, a trade mahazine for restaurateurs, is L'Europe Restaurant on the San Rafael side of the Miracle Mile.

In an article by Jim Rasfeld, "service a la Cart," L'Europe owner Frits Verburg is cited for his novel refinement in serving hors d'oeuvres. Instead of having guests step up to a buffet to serve themselves as was done here at first, an hors d'oeuvres cart with all the appetizers is brought directly to the table.

It's a nice little procedure and gets the customer munching on something instead of sitting idly while waiting for his prepared-to-order entree.

JOAN VALENZUELA'S Village Cafe at 60 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera (formerly Murphy's) is featuring paintings from Maggi Walker's collection of Caribbean primitives until July 1. Different artists will display here each month and many of the paintings may be bought.

VIBES ENTERTAINER Cal Tjader is scheduled to appear Friday and Saturday nights next week at Vi's Club Drake in Fairfax, continuing the stream of top performers which Vi Looby has been booking at this Fairfax night club. Better make reservations.

FOLKSINGER Dave Van Ronk on one of his rare Bay Area visits will be at the Lion's Share tonight in Sausalito. A recording star, he has been touring the country giving concerts and appearing on national television programs.

THE PAINTINGS of popular artist Lovell Williams are on display this month at Rubini's in Fairfax.

ENTERTAINMENT this weekend at the Ark in Sausalito consists of Transatlantic Railroad and Petrus tonight and tomorrow night from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Breakfast show from 2 to 6 a.m. features Boogie and the Flamin' Groovies.

IN SAN FRANCISCO. Comely, blond Johanna Lee is the new featured entertainer in the garden bar of the recently opned Miyako Hotel in the Japanese Cultural and Trade Center. She has performed in supper club musical productions and is recentiy from the East Coast, Miami Beach and Las Vegas. She performs nightly between 9 p.m. and 2 a.m. — except Mondays. . . . The newly opened Bratskellar Restaurant in the Ghirardelli Square complex offers 21 types of California table, sparkling and dessert wines — served by bottle, carafe or from miniature wine barrels along with the hofbrau-style food. Waitresses wear colorful Bavarian costumes, customers sit at candlelit tables in a medieval castle setting.

Sign Hearing Set

A continued hearing on the application of Disco Inc. for a sign variance at Larkspur Plaza, formerly occupied by Value World, is on the agenda of the Larkspur Planning Commission meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in City Hall.

Peninsula Study Report Slated At Gathering

An oral report on a study of the Tiburon Peninsula by college students will be presented at the annual meeting of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society at 8 Tuesday.

The public meeting will be at Old St. Hilary's Landmark Museum on Esperanza Street in Tiburon.

The report of a 22-week study of the peninsula will be given by senior students from the University of California's department of landscape architecture in Berkeley. It will include a master plan for the area and a development plan for downtown Tiburon.

Officials from Belvedere and Tiburon are expected to attend the meeting, which will be hosted by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission, according to Mrs. John Ericson, landmarks society executive director.

Arab Village Puzzled By Assassination

TEIBEH, Israeli-occupied Jordan (UPI)—This tiny Christian village today struggled to understand that one of its sons is accused of shooting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

For Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was one of the quiet ones.

"A very gentle, polite, quiet and humble boy, interested mainly in books" said a schoolteacher of the 24-year-old Arab who left for America a decade ago and came back in headlines that shocked Teibeh.

INFLUENCE SEEN

Salim Awad, the principal of the village's Lutheran school, said, "It is beyond comprehension how he could have committed such a terrible act on his own initiative without having been put up to do this by some other people."

The village elder, Faiz Ba'ajis Muaddi, also said there must have been someone behind Sirhan's actions. The young man's father said he could not understand his son's reported deed.

"How he came to this is beyond me," said Bishara Sirhan.

The father, 52, shrugged his shoulders.

CHURCH-GOERS

Earlier he had explained that his son used to travel with him into nearby Jerusalem. They would go to the Greek Orthodox Church every Sunday and together study the Bible.

The father expressed admiration for the Kennedy family. "How do you expect me to know why he shot Robert Kennedy?" the father said.

The father said he last saw Sirhan three years ago during a visit to the United States. He says he may go again. The father lives on a "very small" pension and income from parttime farm work. His home is modest. He shakes his head a lot.

ARAB VIEWS

In Cairo, newspaper gave their own explanations.

Al Ahram, often the semi-official voice of the Egyptian government, said Kennedy's assassination was a "terrible tragedy." It called Sirhan "a natural product of the atmosphere of violence in America. He has been away from his Arab homeland for 11 years—the time he was 12—and these were decisive years in his mental and psychological growth...

"Although heavy on the heart, it nevertheless has to be said... that American discrimination against the Arabs acts as pressure on the nerves, particularly the nerves of Arab emigrants to America."

Kennedy Requiem

St. Isabella's Parish on Manuel Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda announced Requiem Masses for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy at 7:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. tomorrow. Special memorial services also will be conducted during Sunday masses, the parish said.

DUTY OF A GRIEVING SON

British Predict Surviving Kennedy To Run In 1972

LONDON (AP) — British newspaper commentators predicted today that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy will set his sights on the American presidency, carrying on the family tradition established by his two assassinated brothers.

British papers spread the 36-year-old Massachusetts senator's pictures across their pages and speculated on his chances of reaching the White House eventually.

"That he will now seek to carry on alone the political ambitions of the Kennedy family is regarded as certain," wrote Richard Scott of the Guardian.

"He has evoked none of the personal animosities which Bobby did," said Scott. "Whether he possesses Bobby's political acumen is perhaps not yet proven. His older brother, Jack, believed that he did. . .

"By now he has made a solid reputation for himself in the Senate as a modest, industrious and extremely well informed and well briefed member.

"He is more popular than Jack and Bobby ever were with his colleagues."

"Teddy is the longterm family contender for leadership of the world's most powerful nation," wrote Peter Younghusband in the Daily Mail.

"Teddy's most notable feature is a deep and appealing charm, and from it grows a relaxed attitude to his problems and to politics," the Mail correspondent said.

"Perhaps because of his operating style and personality Teddy has some contacts that Bobby lacked. He is the favorite Kennedy among powerful Southern senators."

Both Vincent Ryder of the Daily Telegraph and John Sampson of the Sun reported speculation in Washington that Kennedy might be offered the vice presidential nomination this year as a tribute to his brothers' memory.

"But I think Teddy will be too shrewd to accept," wrote Sampson. "He is out for bigger things.

"It is easy to imagine him a candidate for president in four years time." Both Sampson and the Mail's Younghusband quoted President Kennedy's remark while he was senator from Massachusetts: "Just as I went into politics because my brother Joe died, if anything happened to me tomorrow my brother Bobby would run for my seat in the Senate. And if Bobby died, Teddy would take over for him."

Younghusband added: "What are the chances that Teddy will reach the White House? The least that can be said is that they are enhanced."

Mills Will Graduate Three Marin Women

Three Marin residents are among 204 graduates of Mills College in Oakland who will receive their diplomas in commencement ceremonies Sunday afternoon at the college's Greek Theater.

The are Nancy Purvis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin E. Purvis of 616 Appleberry Drive, San Rafael, bachelor of arts in psychology; Carol Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins of 188 Hazel Avenue, Mill Valley, bachelor of arts in sociology and anthropology, and Lonni Briggs, daughter of Mrs. Bert D. Briggs of 36 Main Street, Tiburon, bachelor of arts in French.

Soviet Poet Points Scorn At Violence

MOSCOW (AP) — In a strongly worded poem published today, Yevgeny Yevtushenko said that perhaps only a sense of shame in America can curb the violence most recently manifested in the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"You're firing at yourself, America," the Soviet poet wrote. "If you go on, you'll really kill yourself."

The poem was titled "The Freedom to Murder."

Addressing America, it noted that "already a second Kennedy falls" and continued:

You promised you'd be the conscience for the world

But at the edge of an abyss of shame

You shoot not at (Martin Luther) King but at your conscience.

You bomb Vietnam, and with it your own honor.

When the nation becomes dangerously insane, Then calmness, hastily prescribed, Will not cure its trouble.

Maybe only one thing—shame — will help it.

In another part of the poem, printed in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda, Yevtushenko addressed Abraham Lincoln:

Hey, old Abe, what are the people doing,

Having crudely learned one truth,

That it is easy to understand a tree's size

Only when it is knocked down.

Kennedy Aide Denies Yorty Not Welcome

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy said today that Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles would be welcome at the funeral for the slain senator as the official representative of that city.

It was earlier reported that Mrs. Kennedy did not wish the mayor to attend the funeral. Several Democratic clubs also have urged him to stay away.

Frank Mankiewicz, press secretary to the late senator, said the Los Angeles City Council had appointed Yorty as official representative to the funeral and that he would be welcome.

Thomas Jardine, Yorty's press secretary, said yesterday that Sander Vanocur, an NBC television newsman, had quoted Mrs. Kennedy as saying she preferred that Yorty not attend the funeral. Vanocur accompanied the Kennedy family and the senator's body on Thursday's flight from Los Angeles to New York.

Jardine said Yorty had no idea why Mrs. Kennedy should make such a comment and said that Yorty "is entirely confused about it."

Here is what Vanocur said on NBC about Mayor Yorty:

"And I must say that one thing that bothered the Kennedy people in Los Angeles was the fact that Mayor Yorty came out to the plane. And Mayor Yorty had some — number one, he was supposed to be a Democrat in 1960, he opposed John F. Kennedy in that campaign. And I think at a Senate hearing about two years ago, the Ribicoff subcommittee on cities, he had a rather acrimonious exchange between himself and Sen. Robert Kennedy.

"And someone went up to Frank Mankiewicz, Sen. Kennedy's press secretary, and said, 'If you let Yorty near the plane I'll never speak to you again.' And Mankiewicz said, 'Well,' he said, 'I was very subtle, but I went around to Yorty and I said to him, 'Sam,' he said, 'I think your presence would be offensive to Mrs. Kennedy.' And he didn't go near the plane."

Mankiewicz, asked today about the report, said, "That's too strong. I don't think I said that. I think what I told Mayor Yorty was, 'I think Mrs. Kennedy would prefer that you not be there.' It was a private, personal, family thing. They didn't want anybody there to greet them."

San Mateo May Rejoin BART

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—There are indications today that San Mateo County might decide to rejoin the Bay Area Rapid Transit System from which it pulled out in 1961.

A $1.2 million dollar study of apid transit alternatives is nearing completion, and officials say it probably will wind up with a recommendation to rejoin BART.

"In all honesty, working with BART appears to be our No. 1 alternative," said William Werder, vice chairman of the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority, which is making the study.

Opposition was expressed, however, by David D. Bohannon, peninsula developer who was a leader in the movement to get the area out of the BART system.

Fairfax Seems Likely To Alter Government

The future of city administrator government in Fairfax appears somewhat shaky with the resignation this week of David J. Sumbardo, who has served a troubled three years and three months.

Sumbardo is Fairfax's first city administrator. He was hired by 3-2 vote of the city council. After that vote, Councilman Cornelis van Vliet resigned. But in April of this year, van Vliet ran for city council again and won a new term. Sumbardo obviously felt his job was insecure.

Last summer, there was discussion of combining Sumbardo's job with that of the city engineer. It would not be surprising if this proposal is revived.

IF FAIRFAX should combine the administrator and engineer jobs, it would be going back to what has been the starting setup for administrator or manager government in several cities in Marin.

After San Rafael adopted its city manager ordinance in December, 1947, Ray Boege, who had served 10 years as city engineer, was appointed to the job. He held both titles until he left in 1953.

Mill Valley promoted A. E. Almcrants from director of public works in 1951 to become its third city manager.

The jobs were combined at the outset in Corte Madera, with Arthur H. Brandow hired as city manager and engineer. He continued in the dual role until his resignation in 1965 after nine and one-half years' service.

SAN ANSELMO, which has a history of manager-administrator controversy somewhat like that in Fairfax, finally wound up with another combination: manager-controller. San Anselmo adopted a city manager ordinance in 1957 (although one had been on the books, unused, for some three decades) and hired Arthur W. Brewer to fill the post. After Brewer had been on the job 21 months, the council repealed the ordinance, thereby abolishing the job. It subsequently enacted a city administrator ordinance — little different except that it did not give the administrator control of hiring and firing — and employed Douglas J. Flautt for the new position. But he also wound up in trouble with the council after a few years. And following his resignation, the job of administrator was combined with that of city controller.

MARIN'S NEWER CITIES have found fewer problems with this type of government — probably because they experienced no other type. Novato started out with a temporary administrator, Robert O. Bailey, on its incorporation in 1960. He agreed to serve only until a permanent government could be set up. J. Julien Baget, who was hired about four months later, is still on the job, and his title had been changed from administrator to manager.

Marin's newest city, Tiburon, incorporated in 1965, still has its initial city manager.

Belvedere went into manager government by an easy route, appointing Britton Rey, who had been serving as elected city clerk for seven years, in 1954. He continued as clerk and manager until his retirement in 1964.

Larkspur's first city manager, Ronald E. Piper, served 10 years on the job. Sausalito's first, Donald A. Duerr, remained in office four years.

NONE OF THE CITIES has abandoned this form of government after once trying it — except for a brief interim in San Anselmo. But combining it with another job — engineer, controller, or clerk — has proved satisfactory to several of the smaller cities.

Some such combination may be the result in Fairfax, but whether it will prove the solution there may be doubtful. Sumbardo found his greatest trouble was getting along with the council, and this was probably a situation where the fault was not all on one side.

Federal Farm Subsidy System Exports Poverty To Cities

WASHINGTON — At the rate of a half-million a year, the migration of poor, half-educated, almost-illiterate Negroes from the South to the North is continuing. This ongoing movement of poverty and misery into the crowded and decaying ghettos makes just about everything said in the presidential campaign thus far on the dilemma of the cities so much empty rhetoric.

To talk about rebuilding the slums, whether by private enterprise or by government or by a combination of the two, is like proposing to bail out a boat with a cup when water is pouring in through great fissures in the hull. As fast as the slums are rehabilitated, new slums will be created.

THE WAY in which the Department of Agriculture is subsidizing this system was made clear in the recent report, "Hunger USA," prepared under direction of a commission of distinguished citizens. While that report showing 256 counties where malnutrition and severe hunger are chronic drew an initial reaction of shock and a few kind words from Sec. of Agriculture Orville Freeman, its real significance was overlooked. A series of tables reveals the huge federal payments to the big agricultural producers who get payments of $5,000 or more a year. They are paid to keep land out of production in states where up to 50 per cent of the population lives in poverty.

The big operators in the South and Southwest have mechanized their operations. Agricultural labor — except for migrants, and the need for them is diminishd — has been thrown out. They are forced onto relief and in the hunger counties relief is deliberately kept down to encourage the dispossessed to leave.

THE SOUTH IS, in short, exporting to the North hunger, misery, illiteracy. The result, as "Hunger USA" suggests, can be catastrophic.

This surplus product, driven by blind anger and frustration, can fill not one Resurrection City but a dozen. Washington's Resurrection City is becoming a monumental headache which no one seems to know how to cure. Congress can pass a law putting a date on their right to occupy the public domain. But how they can be evicted without violence and bloodshed it is impossible to see.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy is already promising similar demonstrations in other cities. A comforting theory is that all this grows out of a sinister conspiracy by a few Communist or Maoist agents. Certainly, the black militants, the Stokely Carmichaels and the Rap Browns, are only too happy to light the fires wherever they can.

But the overriding fact is that, so long as the migration of the dispossessed from the South to the North goes on, the raw material will be there in abundance.

THE AGRICULTURE Department has begun a program, relying largely on propaganda and some small measure of assistance, to keep these unhappy migrants on the land.

From the description of conditions in the hunger counties of the South, however, it is going to take a lot more than that to check the migration. A complete reversal of agricultural policy which keeps 35 million acres out of production by subsidies would be a beginning.

In the view of those who have looked at the magnitude of the problem this would be no more than a beginning. Only a radical system of land tenure and land use, written into a broad federal statute, could bring a sufficient change. And any candidate proposing such a radical goal would have to write off delegate votes in the powerful agricultural states and particularly in the South and Southwest.

A table in "Hunger USA" shows the amounts paid out to the big owners in districts represented by key members of agricultural committees. Plantation owners in the Second District in Mississippi got $23,563,554 in one year. Their representative is Jamie L. Whitten, chairman of the agriculture subcommittee of appropriations. In that district 59.1 per cent of the population live in poverty while the beneficiaries of the federal subsidy were three-tenths of one per cent.

This same extraordinary discrepancy between big checks for the few and poverty and hunger of the many runs through state after state. It is a prescription for disaster.

Response Lacking From School Board

This statement concerning the Sausalito school tax election is just for the record.

The Sausalito School Board and school administration have always professed a willingness and eagerness to provide any information for any citizen at any time.

On April 24 I addressed to David E. Freedheim, president of the Sausalito School Board, a letter in which I requested certain facts in regard to school enrollment, personnel, and income. Because I received no reply, I sent him a follow-up letter on May 15, requesting the same information. The next day I received a telephone call from Superintendent Schneider. Mr. Schneider said he would be glad to supply the facts for me, and would send them in several days. That was May 16.

Today, June 3, the day before the tax election, I am still waiting for that information.

Tragedy Laid To Permissiveness

This last September, having moved from an excellent junior high district in San Rafael to San Anselmo, my daughter Debbie was enrolled in Red Hill Intermediate School.

My daughter came to us, her parents, appalled at the lack of discipline at her new school. She remarked about the frequent swearing, the disrespect of and open rebellion agains her various teachers by the students.

She was amazed by the fact that stealing was rampant and unchecked. We talked of permissiveness, that incredible evil descending upon us from all quarters, the leaders' inability through lack of wisdom, sloth or emasculated law, to lead.

I am reminded in retrospect that our schools have an even more important task than to teach our children; that is to care for and enhance their moral values and to protect them from violence when they are at school and away from the protective canopy of their parents.

Two Wednesdays past, according to those who saw her, my daughter was running down a corridor to get to her next class on time. (Three minutes to get from one class to your locker to your next class.) Two boys, chasing one another down another corridor, collided with her, one after the other, smashing her head against a partially open door.

My dear, 14-year-old daughter died as a result of that injury.

Among the many unanswered questions that plague my thoughts are these:

Why did the school fail to honor its sacred trust and allow this fatal running in the halls?

How can we assure ourselves that discipline can be restored so that such accidents can't occur and that our children can attend a place of learning and be taught order and discipline and not chaos and rebellion?

Can we do something before my son, now in the sixth grade, is enrolled in that school?

I write this in hopes that a lesson might be learned and that my dear daughter didn't die completely in vain, despite the fact that neither of the boys involved, their parents, nor the principal of the school had the courage or the compassion to inquire of us as to her condition.

A friend of our daughters told us of an incident occurring the day after the accident. A boy was running in the hall, and after being called to by a fellow student (not a teacher) and told to stop, remarked "— you!" and kept on running.

Can you trust the life of your children to your school?

Help On Highway Draws Appreciation

May I take this opportunity to publicly express my thanks to the young man returning from a motorcycle race who stopped to offer aid and changed a tire for me when I had a flat late at night a couple weeks ago on Highway 101 between Petaluma and Novato. Though I had indicated my distress with raised hood and blinking lights, he was the first to stop to see if he could help after many other motorists passed by.

It is not news when such an act of kindness is done, but I believe it is good to let it be known that young people are concerned about others and take time and effort to help and that this concern and action is certainly appreciated.

Sorority's Scholar Awards Omitted

In the report on the College of Marin awards night, no mention was made of the scholarships given by Chi Omega Alumnae of Marin: one of $200 to Kathleen Bell, who is going on to Sacramento State College to acquire her teaching credential, and $200 gift to Sherill L. Bloomquist, who is going to the University of California at Berkeley, also to become a teacher.

Our group worked hard to raise this money to carry out our purpose of service to the cause of education in our local community, and would appreciate recognition of that fact. The fact that the sorority system instills a feeling of obligation for a lifetime of social service is one that does not often receive presentation these days.

Liquor Industry Has Its Way With Bills In Legislature

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — If you see smiling faces in the halls of the capitol these days, the chances are good they belong to the hard-working men who represent the liquor industry at the Legislature.

While the current session may not have produced anything spectacular for the alcoholic beverage industry, no bill has been passed to hurt the industry. And a number of "inside" bills have been passed or are on their way to approval.

TAKING THE negative side first (and this usually is the important side for the liquor industry as well as most business interest groups):

A devastating bill, known as the "dram shop" bill, was killed. This measure, by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, would have attached civil liability to a licensee who sold alcoholic beverages to a person who later became involved in a motor vehicle accident.

No one really thought the dram shop bill would pass. It's been tried before. But the consequences of such a measure were so far-reaching that it kept the liquor people on their toes until the bill was killed in committee.

There also was apprehension in the industry over the "presumptive limits" bill. This legislation, by Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle, R-Riverside, would have set limits of alcohol in the blood at which a person would be presumed to be under the influence.

This was a close fight all the way and Biddle lost the bill narrowly after two lengthy debates in the Assembly. Opposition from the liquor interests was not as open on the presumptive limits bill as on the dram shop. But it certainly was a bill which would have discouraged drinking.

There were several bills which would have curtailed the issuance and movement of off-sale general liquor licenses — the type of license in most short supply in the areas of California where the growth has been the most rapid.

All of these have been put aside for the current session.

ON THE POSITIVE side, the industry fought a bloodless battle with Edward J. Kirby, director of the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, a man who believes that every law or rule on the books should be enforced.

Most of the laws regulating the alcoholic beverage industry were put there by the industry itself. Practices of overlooking some of the regulations developed.

When Kirby started enforcing these regulations by chapter and verse, there were loud outcries. A goodly number of bills were introduced this year to restate the regulations to permit the practices that have developed.

'Poor People's' Leaders Bare Broad Objectives

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Leaders of the "Poor People's" campaign are revealing goals to liberal members of Congress that are much more revolutionary than those highlighted in their public statements.

During a private meeting arranged by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., the Rev. James Bevel, a member of the campaign's inner circle, visibly shook a number of the legislators by citing five unpublished objectives, as follows:

To re-distribute the wealth of the U.S. and turn the means of production over to the people.

To eliminate all armaments. The people, Bevel says, can only get rid of their fears if the military will put down their guns and missiles. All local and state police must be "re-oriented."

To eliminate all violence in the world, defined by Bevel as all disciplinary relationships. Example: "We do not believe in a parent making a child conform to a certain norm."

To rid the world of all the "fascists and jitter-bug fascists" — the former being conservative members of Congress and the press; the latter, liberals that fail to join or support the "Poor People's" campaign.

"THE WHOLE struggle of this Poor People's campaign is economic class warfare," Bevel bluntly stated. "There must be a complete redistribution of wealth in this country one way or the other."

When one of the GOP lawmakers questioned Bevel about the purpose of the "Poor People's" campaign, Bevel described it as "a great human theatrical drama being enacted to educate the people of the U.S. and the world."

"In this great dramatic play," he stated, "there are senators, congressmen, police, apathetic citizens, and the poor people. All have their roles to play."

In a forecast of things to come, Bevel warned:

"Various scenes of this great play will be violent. But in the end all will be peaceful because fear and hate will have been eliminated from the U. S. and the world."

QUESTIONED about his loyalty to the U. S., he replied:

"I feel no responsibility to a nation-state. I represent conscious energy, which is a universal phenomena. As a result, I don't get too excited when I see a rag on a stick called a flag."

Bevel began his career in the mass protest movement in the early '60s in Nashville, Tenn.

Before coming to Washington to join Rev. Ralph Abernathy's brain-trust for the "Poor People's" campaign, Bevel was one of the organizers and leaders of the anti-Vietnam protest movement.

American Posture Becoming Sham As Rule By Gun Takes Over

What has happened to this country?

In little more than an eyeblink, as the lives of nations are measured, we appear to have become the most lawless and violent nation in the world.

The nation founded on rule by the people is sinking into rule by the gun, rule by assassination.

The murders and shootings of public figures in the past five years would shame a Central American dictatorship or an emerging African autarchy, let alone a nation that presumes to world leadership.

There is irony in our posture. America has claimed leadership stems not from our strength but from our virtues. Our system has been held out as an ideal for others to aim for, the best system to replace monarchy and despotism.

THAT POSTURE must seem a sham today. There is violence in men everywhere. The turmoil in Europe shows that. But it is deeper and more dangerous in this country than in any civilized nation, and no other nation glorifies violence as we do.

As a result, our president goes about in armored cars and through back entrances, a non-violent apostle is killed, a candidate offering change is shot point-blank, and no end is in sight.

We cannot be too surprised. We are bred to violence. We are weaned on western movies in which the bad guys always die; we see brutality as a matter of course in television series; we watch war and death on the 6 o'clock news without a qualm. And then one of us goes out gun in hand to kill someone he opposes.

There will be renewed clamor now for gun control laws, and I hope it is loud enough to stir the Congress, which is scared to death of the gun lobby. But that is not enough.

What is needed is what Robert Kennedy and some of the other candidates have talked about in this campaign — redirection of American society, away from the violence which is sickening our country. It will take changes we have not even dreamed of.

BEFORE THE SHOOTING, a few less serious things were happening in the election. Early reports came in Tuesday that some Mill Valley voters were complaining to poll workers about the lack of choices on the ballot. Must have been Republican voters.

A Mill Valley man complained that his daughter, voting in Terra Linda, found the Republican booths draped in red, white and blue, while the other booths wore plain canvas. Though a Republican himself, he was offended by the difference—it seemed to him to imply that non-Republicans are less patriotic.

Who's responsible for setting up the booths, I wonder, and why shouldn't they all be alike?

ART BUCHWALD

DeGaulle No Friend Of Labor: He Grants Demands Too Quickly

WASHINGTON — As a former resident of the fourth and fifth republics of France, I have been keeping tabs on the French crisis. It's very easy to sit back in the United States and be critical of how De Gaulle's government handled the situation, so I'll do it.

It seems to me the biggest mistake De Gaulle and his prime minister, Georges Pompidou, made was to give in immediately to all the unions' demands. Anyone who knows the French character was horrified that the government, in order to end the general strike, agreed to wage increases in less than 24 hours.

This capitulation took all the fun out of the bargaining for the workers and it was no wonder they refused to go back to work.

WHEN NEGOTIATING for anything in France, both sides have to be tough. The pleasure comes, not from results of labor negotiations but from the negotiations themselves.

For example, had Pompidou and his ministers announced at the start of the strike that he would not raise salaries one sou, the workers would have been overjoyed. It would mean they would have to fight for their raises and it would also reassure them that De Gaulle was everything they were yelling he was.

The union officials would warn Pompidou that they intended to stay out until the workers got what they deserved. It would then have been Pompidou's turn to say that he would break the strike if he had to do it with force.

HAPPY DAY! The workers would demonstrate in the streets, the police would lob in some tear gas, and the negotiations would be ready to start.

Act II: The government would reluctantly meet with the unions, but only to refuse their demands. Union officials would come out of the meeting enraged. They would tell the press that the cabinet ministers were bed-wetters and other such things. The government would say the union leaders were Communists and ate with their knives.

More demonstrations. A few cracked heads. Everyone is starting to enjoy himself. Another meeting is now held. The government gives in and offers one per cent increase in wages. Fury from the union leaders. They call for a march to the Place de la Bastille. De Gaulle calls up the army to stop them. The unions march to the Place de la Republique instead. Exhilaration is the order of the day.

POMPIDOU CALLS for all-night negotiations as the workers march through the streets. He offers a 10 per cent increase in wages. The union leaders spit on it. They walk out. They come back. Fifteen per cent is the highest Pompidou says he can go. The union leaders laugh at him. Pompidou walks out. An hour later Pompidou walks back. "Twenty per cent," he cries. "And even with that, De Gaulle will have my head."

The union leaders report to the workers, who throw raw vegetables at them. They go back the next day and demand a 50 per cent increase or the strike goes on. Pompidou, red-faced, ups his ante to 25 per cent. The leaders walk out. Pompidou sends word he meant 30 per cent.

Talk that a settlement is near. The workers hold one more demonstration, as it might be the last one they have for years.

FINALLY, while the entire country is holding its breath and its nose from the garbage, Pompidou goes on television, and, with the union leaders standing grimly by, announces he will give the workers a 35 per cent raise.

It is an out-and-out victory for labor: cheering in the streets! Everyone wants to go back to work. They've gotten all their protesting out of their system. Vive la France! Vive la Liberte!

Instead of following this script last week, the government, in its anxiety, gave in to the workers immediately, thus frustrating and alienating them forever. No wonder the French people are still mad. De Gaulle, besides other things, has now taken all the fun out of labor negotiations.

Reagan Signs Handicapped Helper Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan has signed into law a bill requiring all new public buildings built with public funds to be free of architectural barriers to the handicapped.

The measure, by Democratic Assemblyman Eugene A. Chappie of Cool, was signed by Reagan yesterday.

Its aim is to eliminate such troublespots as narrow doorways, stairs, hard-to-open doors, high drinking fountains and inaccessible telephones.

Chappie said the legislation shouldn't increase construction costs by very much.

Press Club Aide Shot To Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The night clerk at the San Francisco Press Club was shot and killed early today during an apparent burglary attempt, police said.

The body of Floyd Hawkins, 57, was found slumped behind a counter after a man in overalls was seen running out the front door and into a nearby garage.

Hawkins had been mortally wounded in the neck and chest by bullets from a hand gun, said patrolman James Braswell.

Johnson Names New Food-Drug Administrator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Herbert L. Ley Jr., an official of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was named yesterday to succeed Dr. James L. Goddard who resigned as head of the Food and Drug Administration.

Ley, 44, has been director of the department's Bureau of Medicine, Food and Drug Administration since 1966. Before that he was chairman of the Department of Microbiology of the Harvard School of Public Health.

The appointment was announced at the White House by HEW Secretary Wilbur Cohen after conferring with President Johnson.

Ley was Goddard's choice to succeed him, as well as the choice of numerous Senators and key congressional committees who monitor the performance of FDA, it was reported.

Non-Teaching Employees Get Raise In San Rafael

Non-teaching personnel in San Rafael City Schools will receive pay raises ranging from 1 to 16 per cent under the State Personnell Board plan adopted by the San Rafael Board of Education.

The cost of the pay changes will add 6.7 per cent to the payroll, but it doesn't represent an across-the-board boost of 6.7 per cent, according to the report.

The changes will place the district in a good competitive position during the 1968-69 year, the report stated.

Teachers' aides and noon supervisors will receive the biggest percentage boost, 16 per cent, but not the biggest boost in dollars. They will get $2 an hour instead of $1.73 an hour.

The personnel board reported that the annual rate of increase of salaries in private industry has changed from to to 4 per cent two years ago to 5 to 6 per cent currently.

"The same trend is apparent in public agencies which must remain competitive with private industry," the report said.

Fusselman said he wrote a column about the primary election which he felt was inappropriate because of the tragedy.

Dumb Dora Proves Friends Were Wrong

Things have been a bit hectic at the Arthur Burton's home the last couple of years.

It began two yeas ago, when Rene Burton, a housewife and mother of three, decided to take an art course at the Colleg of Marin. Becoming enthusiastic about the atmosphere at the college, she decided to become a full time student. Fulfilling a long suppressed desire, she changed her major to biology.

Rene always assumed she had less than average intelligence. In fact, in Brooklyn, where she was brought up, friends nicknamed her Dumb Dora.

Dumb Dora will be graduated next week from the College of Marin where she has won the following honors.

As the outstanding female student selected by the faculty she will be awarded the Harry Crotty Memorial scholarship.

She will be presented with a gold medal for making the honor roll each semester.

Her name is on the permanent honor roll of Alpha Gamma Sigma, the Californai junior college honor scholarship society.

The Burton's, who reside at 71 Knight Drive in San Rafael, are the parents of Michelle, 18, Denise, 12, and Richard, seven. Michelle will be graduated from San Rafael High School the same day as her mother receives her diploma from the college. She plans to enroll at the College of Marin in the fall and take the same courses as her mother.

After a summer lull, the busy Burtons will be back in their academic swing when Mrs. Burton resumes her studies at Sonoma State College.

MRS. ARTHUR BURTON

Mother Of Six Earns Pharmacy Degree

By MARY LEYDECKER

Eight long years of studying plus the hundreds of swimming lessons she gave to finance her education have all been worth while as far as a 39-year-old Santa Venetia mother of six is concerned.

Mrs. Robert Laufer will be graduated Saturday from the University of California Medical Center with a doctor of pharmacy degree.

When Mrs. Laufer first started her long college career, she had no idea of such a goal.

"I never had gone to college," she explains, "so I started by taking a German class at College of Marin night school."

She found she liked college, so she enrolled as a daytime student in freshman courses. She only went to school part-time, however, so it took her four years to complete the two-year junior college course.

"At first my husband (Robert Laufer, a heating and sheet metal contractor) thought my going to college was something that would pass, but it's been a way of life for all of us now for so long," she said laughing.

By the time Dolores Laufer completed four years at College of Marin, she had discovered her interest lay in the health field. She then decided to enroll as a full-time pharmacy student at U.C. where she has spent the past four years.

"There are very few women in my class," she said, "and I'm by far the oldest person."

"I decided that if I was going to spend four years with college students, I would make friends with them," she said "I'm 'Dolores' to them and I have enjoyed their friendship, but I've never embarassed them by trying to join in their social activities."

She and her husband have, however, invited her fellow students over for swimming parties at their home, she said, "and we had a ball at the senior dance."

In addition to the studying required for a pharmacy major, each student must spend, 1,900 hours working in a pharmacy. Mrs. Laufer has received this training in Marin General Hospital's pharmacy, where she will go to work full time in a couple of months.

"Going to U.C. cost about $2.000 a year," Mrs. Laufer said, "So I taught swimming to about 125 children and adults each summer." Using her backyard pool, Mrs. Laufer gave lessons to classes of six at a time.

"I'm waterlogged," was her answer to whether she was going to teach this summer.

The immediate plans call for the whole family to attend graduation ceremonies at the San Francisco Civic Auditorium and then Mrs. Laufer will study for the pharmacy board examination to be given later this month.

Hers is not the only graduation in the family this month. Her son Mike, 18, will be graduated from Terra Linda High School, and a daughter, Marcia, is an eighth grade graduate at Blessed Sacrament School, Santa Venetia.

Other children in the family are Susan, 19; Debbie, 17; Irene, 15, and Andy, 12.

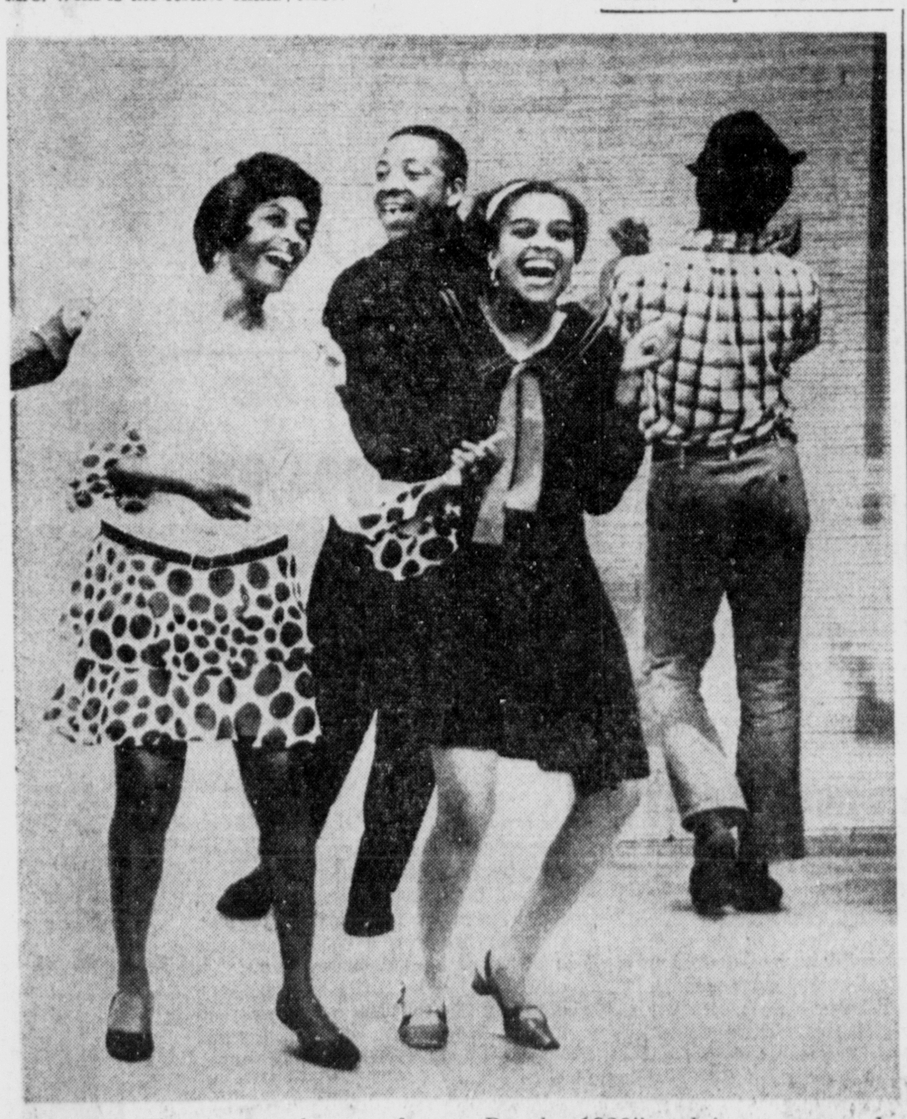
Singer-Nurse In Satirical Revue

Mrs. James H. Wells of Marin City is the evening supervisor of nurses at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael. She is also one of the stars of "Meet The People," a satirical revue to be presented this weekend at San Rafael High School.

Alma Wells just loves to sing and feels that it rounds out her life. She has been studying for many years with Bella Resak, a Mill Valley vocal coach.

Mrs. Wells is the former Alma Banks. Her family settled in San Rafael when she was eight years old. A graduate of San Rafael High School, where she was vice president of the student body, Alma's singing began in that school's choir.

Now the mother of two children, Karen, 11, and Kevin, 10, the singer-nurse appears in concerts throughout the Bay Area. Her husband, James H. Wells, is employed by the Post Office Department in San Francisco.



ALMA WELLS, left, rehearses for her part in the "Meet The People" revue to be presented Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings in the San Rafael High School auditorium. The show is an updated version of the Broadway success, "Meet The People, 1939" and is co-sponsored by the Festival Theater and Marin County, made possible by a Title III federal grant. Other members of the all Negro cast are Pamela Jenkins, Billy Rick and, with back to camera, Danny Duncan.

Once Maligned Designer Dominates High Styled Men's Wear Field

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pierre Cardin is a much maligned man in the U.S. clothing industry and when he first introduced the Cardin line for men in Paris in the spring of 1958, the Americans snickered. Ten years later his French look will dominate high style American men's wear for fall.

It won't be called the Cardin Look but probably will end up as the "International Look." The Cardin influence already is heavy throughout Europe and many designers at the Cologne Trade Fair last August came right out and called their jackets "Cardin jackets." This fall Cardin is here.

THE LOOK IS this: The jackets are longs and have a distinct flare. The shoulders are built up with some padding but are not over-stuffed; some are "roped," i.e., they project slightly at the seam. The lapels are wider and the peak or notch is higher. The arm-holes are higher and the sleeves are slimmer. The button placement is lower which adds to the flare effect.

The double breasted models almost always have six buttons. Most models have ticket pockets and the pocket flaps themselves are wider. The vents in the back run as deep as 12 to 13 inches but there are also inverted single pleats in the back as deep or deeper.

So far, Cardin's creations have turned up only in a few expensive boutiques in big department stores. This fall they will be mass produced for the American market (in American factories) for the first time and distributed by a firm that calls itself the Intercontinental Men's Apparel Corp.

THE EUROPEAN look also was a trademark of Hardy Amiee who began mass distribution in the United States last fall and there are similarties in the overall silhouette although each designer has retained his own individuality.

Another pioneer of the International Look was Oleg Cassini who was turning out the longer flared jackets when many American manufacturers were still toying with the idea. It also shows up in the works of Bill Blass and John Weitz.

No American manufacturer will admit that Cardin has influenced his own designs and most deny it. Here are the views of some leading manufacturers on the "International Look."

Frank Toscani, chief designer for Botany Industries, Philadelphia, says he doesn't know who gave it the name "international" but adds the shaped look is winning wide acceptance after seven years of talk. Toscani, whose firm produces 36 million units a year, says his coats are slightly longer with slightly wider lapels but he strives for the American profile, which deemphasizes the hips.

Sam Silverman, executive vice president of Petrocelli, New York, said the international look has many concepts and every designer has his own concept. The Petrocelli look is one to please the American wearers and "not just give the jollies to the designer himself." There is contour and shape but not the extremes of Europe.

Sandy Glanzrock, vice president in charge of sales for Eagle Clothes, New York, reported more shape, longer coats, wider lapels, inverted side pleats and sports coats with patch pockets and belted backs. But he calls it strictly an American Look for the American man.

Susan Christy To Be July Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Myron M. Christy of Greenbrae announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Ellen of Altadena, to Michael Kim Bottles, also of Altadena.

Susan attended Roedean School in Johannesburg, South Africa, and was graduated from Redwood High School. She also attended Occidental College in Los Angeles and is employed at the Altadena Public Library.

Kim, as the future bridegroom is known, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances L. Bottles of Altadena. He was graduated from John Muir High School, attended the California Maritime Academy and is now a student at Pasadena City College. Mrs. Wilfred Davidor of San Diego is his sister, and his brothers are Kent, Scott and Kirk, all of Altadena.

The future bride has a brother, John H. Christy, a student at Lewis and Clark College.

A July wedding is planned.

Mrs. Thomas L. Shaw Heads Kappa Alumnae

Marin County Alumnae Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma has elected Mrs. Thomas L. Shaw of Lucas Valley to serve as president for the coming year.

Barbara Shaw has been an active member of the organization since 1964, when she settled in Marin County with her husband, a director of collegiate recruiting and manpower planning, and their three children, Bill, eight, Betsy, seven, and Steven, five.

A former secretary for North Orange County Association, Mrs. Shaw further served the Marin Kappas as nominations chairman and community services chairman.

A vivacious member of the community, Barbara is outgoing president of Dixie School Parent's Club and an active member of Lucas Valley Women's Tennis Club, the Racquets.

Among other favorite activities are free lance writing, reading, swimming, cooking with a gourmet club, and acting as scorekeeper for her oldest son's farm league team. As a volunteer teacher aide, she teaches creative writing to second and third graders.

She takes great pleasure in meeting and working with people, adults and children, and writing, having worked on newspapers in the midwest and on the San Francisco Examiner staff for five years, as well as free lance magazine writing.

Mrs. Shaw earned a B.A. degree with majors in journalism and English from University of Nebraska, where she also served as vice president of Mortar Board and associate editor of the Cornhusker yearbook, and was active in Theta Sigma Phi.

As official delegate from the Marin County association, Barbara will travel this week to Columbus, Ohio, for the national convention of the 98-year-old sorority. Active Kappas from 94 campuses and alumnae groups around the world will convene at the home of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority headquarters.

The Marin Alumnae held a year-end meeting Wednesday. Highlight of the meeting was the awarding of a $150 scholarship to College of Marin student Mrs. Ruth Hutchinson.

Bridge playing Kappas raised this money by holding a round robin tournament organized by Mrs. Benjamin Ostlind of San Rafael. High score winners of the seven round tournament were Mrs. Alan Conner of Sausalito, first place, and Mrs. John D. Biggane of Sausalito, second place.

Serving with Mrs. Shaw are Mesdames John W. Nixon of San Rafael, vice presdent; Paul Ogden of Tiburon, secretary; Joseph Kolmer of San Rafael, treasurer; William Down of San Rafael, community services; Charles Carle of San Rafael, publicity.

MRS. THOMAS L. SHAW

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Who Sets The Trend In Courting For Modern American Teenagers?

DEAR HELEN:

These girls who think they have it made because they've become equals with boys — how dumb can they get?

I was courted with candy and flowers. One of my fellows even wrote me romantic poems, and another — don't laugh — once serenaded me, while my father groaned. The men escorted us to their cars, and opened doors for us. They fought for us if necessary. They protected us.

But my daughter? Here comes her guy, with "Hi, stupid, let's split," and he swats her rear as she opens the door for him. She uses her car half the time, paying for the gas. She goes "dutch" on dates, and sometimes she pays his way. If it came to a riot in the streets, I imagine she'd be in there swinging while he hid behind a lamp post. After they are married (if he ever gets around to it) she will continue working, and he already has an agreement that in case of a divorce, he gets half of her property and bank account.

Do you call this equality?
MOURNING DEAD CHIVALRY

DEAR M.D.C.:

No — stupidity! A girl gets the chivalry she expects, but only if she picks the right guy. Your modern daughter could do with some good old-fashioned mother-sense.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Am a 42-year-old mother of seven, living with my husband and very unhappy. He has beaten me several times, told me to leave, threatens to change names on insurance policies, says I'm in the way. But he won't provide money for support if the children and I move out. He says a lawyer can fix it so I'll be to blame.

One example of his mental cruelty: When the children are studying, he turns up TV so loud he can't hear anyone talk. I have no love for him.

About a year ago I met a very nice gentleman who is 20 years older than I am. He is married but his family is grown. He wants to continue our friendship and has offered me a good job. I feel happy with him as I know he loves me.

Should I keep on with this romance or settle for the nothing life I have? — J.C.

DEAR J:

My files bulge with letters similar to yours. They're all so typical I can predict the last paragraph before I finish the first. When a woman spends pages describing her no-good louse of a husband, I could tell blind-folded, she's already picked out his replacement.

Must you gals go all out to justify yourselves? I'd be much more charitable if you straight-talked me with: "There's another man in my life: here's what I want to do . . ." and in the last paragraph, "Here's why."

Possibly, J.C., your marriage is hopeless. I wouldn't know but a counsellor could help you find out. Make that effort before you leave.

All I can say is you won't solve anything by taking on a lover who probably wouldn't marry you even if he could. Don't sour another woman's marriage just because you got a lemon.

A double life gets nothing but double trouble. What with seven children, I don't see how you'd have time for it.—H.

Avocado Facts

More than 500 varieties of avocado have been catalogued but only about 100 are grown commercially. A leading California variety is the Fuerte-Spanish for vigorous and strong so-named in 1913 when it survived the great freeze of that year. This smooth, green-skinned variety, of Mexican origin, constitutes about 60 percent of the total avocado crop. The Hass, also high ranking in volume, is a California original named for its discoverer, Rudolh Hass, who patented the summer variety.

THE SAN FRANCISCO LOOK

San Francisco Fashion Industries unveiled their latest styles for fall at buyer's week this week at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. Among the designs shown were, left, Mister Robert's (Robert Trieber of Belvedere) Tobacco Coat Dress featuring the antique leather look with "early Air Force" styling. At right is Zado of California's (Evan Goldenberg of Ross) bronze and yellow wool knit coat and dress ensemble. Mr. Goldenberg is president of the San Francisco Fashion Industries.

Bonded Knits

Knits have benefited tremendously from bonding. Knit dresses, skirts and suits tended to lose shape, sag and stretch. Now knits bonded to lighter-weight fabrics keep their shape and appearance. Bonding also gave new life and new end-uses to shetlands, hopsacks, metallic fabrics and otherwise itchy woolens.

Mrs. Carl Schrader Is Delta Zeta's Leader

MRS. CARL SCHRADER

Mrs. Carl G. Schrader of Fairfax, new president of the Marin Alumnae chapter of Delta Zeta sorority, says her greatest enjoyment comes from "doing things that are valuable to everyone's well-being." Her interests are entertaining, interior decorating, landscape painting, sewing, gardening and hunting as well as fishing, swimming, hiking, traveling and tailoring.

She is especially interested in the philanthropic work of the sorority. She said "Projects included in our national program are the National Association of Hearing and Speech agencies; Gallaudet College, the only college for the deaf in the United States and Navajo assistance.

"Alumnae chapters donated to philanthropies $37,108.44 from 1964 to 1965 and $49,198.06 from 1966 to 1968. Many local schools for the deaf, hearing clinics and other local projects in the community are included.

"Local interests are the book booth for the Grape Festival, giving benefits for hearing handicapped classes, and plans to contribute to the Toys for Tots campaign. Gysbertha, or Betsy as she is called, has been a member of the sorority over 20 years in Santa Barbara and Washington, D.C., and has served as philanthropy chairman.

She is a member of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley and has been active as a den mother for Boy Scouts and in volunteer work for the Red Cross, United Crusade, Mothers' March for Polio and Crippled Children and the Heart Fund. She is treasurer of the Monte Cristo Tract Road District Association.

Betsy was graduated from San Jose State College with a B.A. in education and home economics and did graduate work at San Jose State College and San Francisco State College for her general secondary teaching credentials. She is a substitute teacher in Marin County and has taught at the Three R School, public high schools and has taught chemistry at the College of Marin.

She and her husband, a mechanical engineer who is head of the U.S. Navy west coast shock test facility, have lived in Marin 20 years. They have two sons, George who was graduated as an electronics engineer from the College of Marin and is now on active duty with the U.S. Navy Air Reserve, and Jan, a student at the College of Marin.

Other new officers of the chapter are Mesdames Ernest Zunino, vice president; John Hall, secretary; Edsel Yarling, treasurer; and Robert D. Goodwin, chapter editor.

Offbeat Team

Yams and prunes make an excellent team. Bake 4 medium yams in a preheated 400-degree oven 15 minutes; reduce temperature to 375 degrees and bake 1 hour or until tender. Scoop out yams; mash well; fold in ½ cup of chopped dried prunes, 1 teaspoon of lemon rind, 1 tablespoon of lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon of allspice and ¾ teaspoon of salt. Pile into yam shells; return to oven 5 to 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Oil Company Engineer Is Terra Linda P-TA Leader

RICHARD FAIRFAX

Youth activities and youth guidance are the particular interests of Richard V. Fairfax, newly elected president of Terra Linda High School Parent-Teacher Association. Fairfax has just completed a term as treasurer of the board.

One of Fairfax's goals as P-TA president is to strengthen help given students in career guidance.

Fairfax is concerned with the fact that many high school parents "become wholly inadequate in understanding and knowing their sons and daughters because very often they just don't know what's going on." He has invited representatives of next year's student council to sit in on P-TA board meetings.

An operations supervisor for Standard Oil in Richmond, Dick Fairfax is a three-year resident of Marin. He and his wife, Billie, live in Lucas Valley with their three children, Richard, a sophomore at Terra Linda; Chad, a graduating eighth grader at Miller Creek School; and Laurie, a sixth grader at Lucas Valley School.

Fairfax is a native of Portland, and has a degree in mechanical engineering from Oregon State University.

He and his wife are avid square dancers. As a family they enjoy camping, hiking, water skiing and swimming. Dick has followed his son's interests in Scouts and sports, serving as a Little League coach and on Scout and Explorer troop committeees.

U.S. Gives Radar Base To Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The United States will hand over to Turkey a $15 million radar and communications base near Ankara on June 14, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

The turnover is the major result so far of negotiations the United States and Turkey began in 1966 to reduce the 30,000-man American military contingent in Turkey.

The base includes advanced, highly secret radar and communications equipment, bachelor and family living quarters for 800 persons, entertainment facilities and utilities. American personnel operating the base have been gradually reassigned as Turkish personnel have been trained.

The Novato Fire Department will hold its annual old fashioned chicken barbecue Sunday at the Silveira Ranch on Highway 101 four miles north of Novato.

Chickens with all the trimmings will be served from noon to 4 p.m. or whenever the food runs out, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

Many games and races will be held during the day including the annual salami throwing, egg catching and watermelon eating contests and the wheelbarrow and sack races.

Novato Slates Exam For Firemen's List

Applications are now being accepted for the position of fireman with the Novato Fire Department, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

The Marin City Council last night set July 2 for election of a 13-member board of directors.

The council will have seven residents of low rent housing, two residents of co-operative apartments, two residents of private apartments and two homeowners.

Candidates must return petitions signed by 20 residents 10 days before the election. Petitions will be available in the Manzanita Community Center Library.

Voting will be from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the library.

Council members also approved by-laws prepared by the by-laws committee.

Melvin Randolph, new housing manager for the Marin County Housing Authority and former Marin City resident, attended and heard complaints from several residents. He promised to investigate the grievances, but asked for cooperation of residents in return.

A "How to Study in College" course, for college bound high school graduates, will be given July 8-12 by the Marin YMCA.

The five-lecture course, to be given at College of Marin, will cover how people learn, why we forget, how to take college lecture notes, how to plan your time, what you need to know about each course and professor and personal problems in adjustment to college living.

The course was developed by two Purdue University professors. Enrollment details are available at the Marin YMCA.

Memorial On Sunday At Grace Cathedral

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Grace Cathedral will be the site for a citywide Ecumenical Service of Memorial and Affirmation for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Cancels Session

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission will not meet Monday because of lack of business, it was announced today.

Tamalpais Valley Club Chooses New Officers

Charles H. Norton Jr. of 767 Bay Road was elected president of the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club last night.

Other officers and board members are Richard A. Drever, vice president; Mrs. Mildred Hamburg, treasurer; Mrs. Jacqueline Carlson, secretary, and Jack R. Adams, Walter D. Hubbard and G. Ron Ricketts, members at large.

The club heard a presentation by Carroll Madsen on behalf of developer George Goheen, who is proposing a dry debris-earth fill operation in a Tennessee Valley canyon opposite the entry to Marincello. The property eventually may become a nine-hole golf course, Madsen said.

He said he was explaining the plan to club members to see if there were any strong opposition before going to county authorities. Club members asked several questions but no strong objections were made, he said.

The club also saw excerpts from "The Thurber Carnival" presented by the Tamalpais Valley Players.

Library Sets $10 Outsiders' Fee

The Mill Valley Library Board last night established a fee of $10 per family for library users who live in cities not in the North Bay Cooperative Library system. In Marin, comprises Larkspur, San Anselmo and San Rafael.

The library is in a budget squeeze this year, with income several thousand dollars below planned expenditures. The use fee is not expected to raise much money however, Librarian Dorothy Thomas said.

The board's July meeting will be at 8 p.m. July 11 in the library, its usual meeting date falling on Independence Day.

PETER SELLERS AT THE TAM

Escaper To Go Before Parole Board

William J. Dellinger, 38, a murderer from Kern County, will be before the parole board in August for the first time since a brief escape from San Quentin Prison in 1966, the California Adult Authority reported yesterday.

Dellinger eluded police in Southern Marin for several days in January 1966, after going over the wall, but was recaptured on Feb. 4 in Reno.

His appearance before the adult authority at its August hearing will be on the six months to five years additional that were given to him for his unsuccessful escape.

Dellinger is serving a life sentence for the 1958 murder of his stephather, Sterling Miller, in Kern County. Dellinger and his stepfather were working a mine, the Golden Nugget, and got into an argument which led to the slaying.

Dellinger climbed the wall at San Quentin on Jan. 14, 1966, a few days after the adult authority refused to set for him a parole hearing in August 1968, the first date at which he would have been eligible for consideration of parole from his life sentence.

Tickets, sold at the door, are still available for tomorrow's and the June 15 performance of "The Curious Savage." Curtain is 8:30 p.m.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

"Counterpoint" — During the Battle of the Bulge a world-renowned American symphony orchestra, on tour for the USO, is captured by the enemy . . . well integrated into film's plentiful action, music gives war adventure special distinction . . . for music lovers.

"Sound of Music" — Joyous, happy film filled with breathtaking beauty of majestic alps, music and song . . . superb entertainment.

"Yours, Mine and Ours"—An ex-Navy man with ten children and a Navy widow with eight children are married . . . Battle lines formed on both sides are finally withdrawn when a baby is born and there are nineteen children in the combined families who finally agree to become one. Casting is good.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Elvira Madigan" — Tragic love story in a Swedish film of rare beauty . . . charm of leading players, the haunting score based on theme by Mozart, fusion of exquisite color heighten effect of this deeply touching idyll.

"In the Heat of the Night"—An exciting film that reflects old and new attitudes. Sidney Poiter as detective and Rod Steiger as sheriff make the most of their opportunity to react to each other . . . absorbing but sobering mystery.

"Wait Until Dark"—For blood-curdling horror annd shock this film has not been equalled since "Psycho." A blind woman becomes captive of criminals . . . piling shock upon shock is bloody and gruesome . . . film becomes a living experience

"Fitzwilly"—Dick Van Dyke plays butler who masterminds many robberies to keep eccentric old lady living in high style, Robin Hood fashion. film is played tongue-in-cheek comedy, but to watch gang of thieves get away with theft so cleverly is ethically disturbing.

"Will Penny"—Unglamorized view of Western life in the 1880's. Charlton Heston as Will Penny makes the character of an aging cowpoke a memorable one. The desolate hardships of life on the snow-capped peaks and frozen prairies is convincing. Violence and brutality make the film unsuitable for children.

BORDERLINE
(Some say Adults Only: All say NO for 8-14)

"The Party"—This is tasteless, inane slapstick comedy. Its bathroom vulgarity is crudely juvenile. Only a thread of a plot of a bumbling actor who crashes a lavish Hollywood party. Stars Peter Sellers.

ADULTS ONLY

"Cop-Out" — James Mason Geraldine Chaplin and Bobby Darin in cheap, often sordid film only superficilly concerned with problems of family life and social adjustment.

"The Graduate"—Young man returning from college becomes involved in a torrid affair . . . plot becomes a tangled mess . . . absurd melodramatic ending.

"A Minute to Pray, A Second to Die"—(Italian) Artifical and overblown melodrama patterned on the American western. Emphasis on killing puts plot about slowly reformed gunslinger into the shadows.

"Secret War of Harry Frigg"—Well-intentioned comic look at human foibles attached to matters of military rank is mostly lighthearted escapism, but Paul Newman's anti-establishment hero is well played.

Cabinet Shakeup In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Suharto drastically shook up his Cabinet yesterday in another attempt to cure Indonesia's financial ills. He dropped five of the eight generals in his government and appointed seven professors.

Suharto also ousted three civilian ministers whom his critics had labeled bunglers.

It was apparent that Suharto was de-emphasizing the military in his regime and upgrading economic specialists. In an apparent attempt to appease some parties, particularly powerful Moslem groups, Suharto also created three new ministries.

Suharto retained the Defense Ministry himself and kept Adam Malik as foreign minister.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1968 23

JUST SHORT OF CASH

Trapped By The Bail System

By STEPHEN COOK
(Second of three articles)

Marin County authorities recently held an accused and presumably innocent man prisoner for 55 days, simply because he was short on cash, new to the county and lacked what the establishment considers a good employment record.

There was no scandal. The court, the district attorney and the policemen acted in complete accord with California's bail laws when they imprisoned Robert A. Gerard, 26-year-old Sausalito resident.

Gerard, who wears a closely cropped chin beard and long but neatly trimmed hair, was arrested Feb. 23 in his Sausalito apartment. The district attorney said he sold marijuana.

But the law of this land holds Gerard innocent until and if the district attorney proves his charge. The Fifth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution says Marin authorities cannot deprive him of his liberty without due process of law. The Eighth Amendment says the county cannot demand that he post excessive bail.

Gerard had no money. He had lived in Marin County only a year and a half. While in Sausalito, he had worked six months in a San Francisco foundry and five months in a Sausalito poster shop.

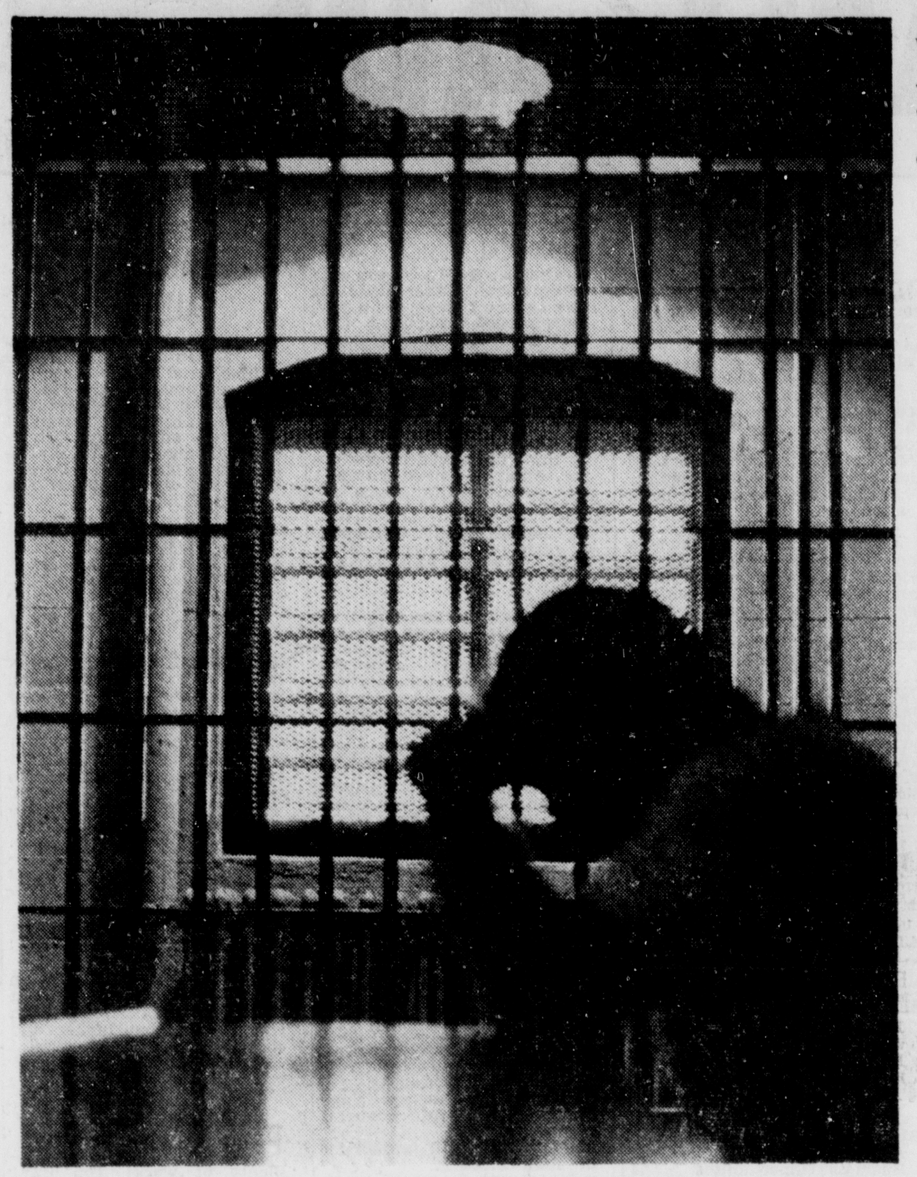
Despite the basic tenents of our law, he was confined in the county jailhouse from Feb. 23 until April 18, when he managed to post $2,500 bail. It took him that long to convince a judge to reduce his bail from $5,000.

Gerard had called bail bondsmen, but was told he could not afford to buy his freedom. A friend was willing to pay the bondsman a $650 premium for Gerard's release, but the bondsman demanded Gerard also produce some property, worth $5,000 to $6,000, as collateral to assure his appearances in court.

Gerard, who says he sometimes became so depressed in jail that he feared he would never be brought to trial, just forgotten in his cell, pleaded with Marin Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley for his release.

He asked several times that he be released without bail, promising to make his court appearances. If this is impossible, he said, reduce my bail.

Judge Haley, acting on reports from a probation officer and the recommendation of Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, refused both requests until April 18, when he finally cut the bail by half, with trial set for the week of July 22.



THE LONELY DAYS — A prisoner, his innocence presumed, waits in jail for days, or weeks, while seeking reduction of bail to an amount he can pay, or else to convince a judge or bail bondsman he is a good risk, will show up in court on the day set for his trial. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Apparently the judge, the district attorney and the probation officers feared Gerard would flee the jurisdiction if freed. Gerard did not think so.

"That would be very stupid. I couldn't see running, because, as far as I'm concerned, I haven't done anything bad. If a guy doesn't have a record, he takes a really big chance if he runs. I don't see why the court doesn't see this," he said.

Who decides if a man facing a criminal charge is freed while awaiting trial? How do they decide?

Joe Pecora or one of Marin's other bail bondsmen is the first to make the decision.

"The type of bail call I get comes late at night or early in the morning. Over the phone, I get his name and the charge," Pecora says.

"Then I talk to him at the jail and have him fill out an application form. Based on the application and a few subtle checks I make on the spot, I have to decide whether to take a chance on the man.

"The first thing on my mind is will he make his appearances in court? . . . If he's a poor risk, if he says he's out of work, been in the county two or three months, then I ask if he has someone who will co-sign the bond to assure his appearance in court.

"If he has no ties in the county and he's out of work, what is there to hold him here? They leave the county. My records are full of those cases," Pecora says.

If the prisoner cannot afford bail or find a bondsman to help him, he goes to court and asks the judge for release without bail or on lower bail. The judge appoints a probation officer to interview the man and recommend release or an amount of bail.

Raymond Ruiz, senior Marin County probation officer, usually gets the task.

Ruiz asks the prisoner where he lives and how long he had lived there. How long has his family been in the Bay Area? Does he have any dependents? Does he have a job? How long has he held it and what kind of job is it?

Those are the questions on which Ruiz bases his decision.

"It's conceivable that someone who is unemployed could get an OR (release without bail) but there would have to be some other information," Ruiz says.

"His record, the number and nature of arrests or convictions, also has a bearing on my decision," according to Ruiz.

When Ruiz has interviewed the prisoner, he reports to the judge, who must decide finally if the man is to be free or imprisoned while awaiting trial.

Judge Haley, asked how he decides this crucial question, gave a written response:

"It is not the intention of the law to punish an accused person by imprisoning him in advance of his trial. In fixing the amount of money bail, the following are among the more important matters to be considered:

"The seriousness of the offense charged; the previous criminal record, if any, of the defendant; his ties (property, family, job, etc.), if any, to the community as affecting the probability of his appearing at the trial or hearing; the number of charges pending against the accused; the pecuniary ability of the prisoner to furnish bail; whether or not the accused, at the time of arrest, was a fugitive from justice; as well as the moral turpitude of the offense and the penalty provided by law."

Marin Municipal Court Judge Hadden W. Roth notes that, when a judge considers the amount of bail to be set, the man is no longer presumed innocent until proven guilty.

"I must presume him guilty in terms of bail or release without bail," he said. "The man has got a right to be released on bail. It cannot be set so high that he can't make it. We have to gauge it so that it's within his range of making bail. I try to set a figure he can make, but which still insures that he will show for his court appearances."

Judge Roth says he will never release a man without bail if the prisoner was already free on his own recognizance when arrested for a second serious offense.

"I think it's a condition of the OR that they lead a law-abiding life," he says. "One of the hardest things I do is trying to decide how much bail to require. I sweat these things out. I really do."

(Tomorrow: An unsuccessful attempt at bail reform.)

Navy Deserter Faces Marin Check Charge

A 27-year-old sailor, a two-time escapee from the brig on Treasure Island, was back in Marin County jail today to face fictitious check charges lodged against him a year ago in San Rafael.

The sailor, Robert B. Lane, was held in county jail on a warrant charging grand theft. Bail was set at $11,000.

Police said Lane was transferred from the Treasure Island brig to the county jail yesterday after completing a six month sentence for being a deserter.

San Rafael police said they first arrested the suspect a year ago for passing $2,500 in worthless checks.

After bail was posted, he was turned over to the Navy as a deserter, police said, only to escape from the brig.

He than allegedly purchased a car in San Rafael with a $500 worthless check and went to Paso Robles where he was arrested and returned to Treasure Island.

He escaped once again, police said, and was arrested in San Mateo by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents after a policeman identified him and alerted the FBI.

Lane was to appear in municipal court this afternoon on an auto theft charge stemming from the alleged purchase of the car in San Rafael. He had been held to answer in Superior Court on the grand theft charge prior to his first escape.

Pioneer Park Plan Special Hearing Set

Plans for the development of Pioneer Memorial Park will be presented to the public at a special meeting of the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission Monday. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Community House.

Alan Ribera of Ribera and Sue, Oakland landscape architects, will be present to answer questions.

Sausalito Studies Public Works Cost

The Sausalito City Council last night tentatively approved a $168,448 public works budget and $194,102 in public works capital improvements for fiscal 1968-69.

City Mgr. George M. Patterson has proposed a total budget for 1968-69 of $1,222,186, requiring a tax rate of $1.315 per $100 assessed valuation, the same as for this year's $1,134,723 budget.

Last night's budget hearings were held by the council's finance committee — councilmen Jan Paul Dyk and George Hoffman — with the other three council members sitting in. The finance committee is to send the budget to the full council for adoption on June 18.

The addition of one employee, a heavy equipment operator at a salary of $584-710 a month was recommended by the committee, which also agreed to recommend purchase of a $14,000 truck for street and sewer flushing, watering and as an extra water pumper for the fire department.

Patterson said the heavy equipment operator would be needed only if the street flusher were purchased.

For the public works department, the finance committee approved a budget of $31,638 for administration and engineering, including $22,929 in salaries; $72,217 for street and subdrain maintenance, with $51,707 in salaries; $21,133 for plant and tree control on streets and median strips, including $15,648 in salaries; and $23,110 for street lighting and traffic marking, including $2,028 in salaries.

A salary of $14,760, an increase of $1,260 a year, was recommended by the finance committee for City Engineer Norman Wohlschlaeger, head of the public works department.

Expenditures of $2,000 for improvement of the Santa Rosa-San Carlos avenues intersection, a carryover from the current year, was approved as was $11,000 for 12 minor street improvement projects.

The public works capital improvement budget, recommended for approval by the committee, includes: $3,475 for the final payment on the street sweeper, financed by city general funds; $31,00 for the second phase of the Bridgeway widening-seawall project, including paving and sidewalks, financed by state gas tax funds; $50,000 for Bridgeway widening between Olive Street and the north city limits from gas tax and county urban thoroughfare funds: $10,245 for Princess and Bay streets traffic signals, gas taxes; $10,000 for Bridgeway sewer replacement general fund; $7,096 for Bridgeway widening engineering, gas taxes; $8,455 for Main Street widening, gas taxes; $39,000 for the emergency median lane for the Bridgeway widening-seawall project, general fund; and $20,831 for Bridgeway-Easterby to Olive streets, gas taxes and general funds.

The finance committee also agreed to consider a request by Wohlschlaeger for a street roller at $3,500 after the budget review is completed.

A budget allocation of $55,000 for reconstruction of Tiffany Beach was deleted from the capital improvements budget because the city is currently applying for federal beautification funds to help finance the project.

Patterson said the city would not know until fall whether the application was approved. If approved, he said, the city would not receive federal funds until next year. Any money spent by the city before funding is approved does not count towards the city's share of the project cost, he said.

The finance committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at City Hall to review the library, planning department, city council, city manager and general government budgets. Employee fringe benefits will also be reviewed if time allows.

Victim Faces Rabies Shots If Dog Unfound

A Hamilton Air Force Base youth will start the painful and dangerous series of Pasteur anti-rabies shots tomorrow if the dog which bit him Memorial Day is not found.

Mrs. George Coutts of Mill Valley said Harry S. Muniford Jr., a friend of her daughter's, was with the family at Stinson Beach on Memorial Day. He helped break up a dog fight and was bitten on the hand by a black and white malamute.

Mrs. Coutts said the dog's tags were checked at the time, but doctors will not accept that as proof of rabies vaccination without seeing the tags themselves.

Mrs. Coutts, of 2 Lehman Lane, said the dog's owner could call her or call the veterinarian at Hamilton to bring the dog in to have its tags checked.

Ayala Fete Suggested For Tiburon

Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission last night decided to ask the city council to inaugurate an Ayala Day celebration in September and to appropriate $1,500 for the event, according to Russell L. Melquist, secretary.

The event would be named for a Spanish explorer who anchored in Ayala Cove at Angel Island.

Purpose of the celebration is to raise funds for development of parks and recreation programs and to commemorate the history of the Tiburon area, Melquist said.

Commissioners also approved an agreement with the Reed School District to share a proposed park behind Reed School. The park would be supervised by both district and city employees and the city would make necessary improvements to the land, according to Melquist.

Teacher James Allen, in charge of the joint summer recreation program for Belvedere and Tiburon children, told the commission the program this year will include horseback riding and field trips to Angel sland.

Dog Control Proposal On Agenda Tuesday

The proposed dog control ordinance will be reviewed for possible introduction at the Novato City Council meeting Tuesday. The council will meet at 8 p.m. in the Community House.

The council will also review the terms and expiration dates of city commissioners and discuss a communication from the local agency formation commission on annexation policy.

Police Quiz Politicos Phone Threat Suspect

San Rafael police yesterday released a man who allegedly threatened Gov. Ronald Reagan and Republican senatorial nominee Max Rafferty in a phone call to a Pacific Telephone Co. operator after questioning, fingerprinting and photographing him.

Police said the possibility of filing charges against the man is being discussed with the district attorney's office.

The man was a visitor at the Terra Linda home from which the call was made at about 10 p.m. Wednesday, police said. He is a 41-year-old Marin County resident.

The operator who received the call said the man told her he would kill the governor and Rafferty. He gave her what he said was his phone number, at which point she placed his call on hold and called the number he gave her. She got a busy signal.

The man was questioned by Inspector Thomas C. Cheetham of the San Rafael police and an investigator from the state Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

Stanley Onderdonk, Novato High School principal, and Henry Moroski, San Marin High School principal, also will speak.

School awards will be presented by Gordon Leathers, Novato Unified School District trustee. James Bunker, District superintendent, will present the scholarship awards.

Bronze Star Is Given Colonel For Viet Duty

Col. Robert E. Johnston, Fourth Air Force assistant director of communications and electronics at Hamilton Air Force Base, has been awarded the Bronze Star for outstanding service in Vietnam.

In making the presentation Maj. Gen. Carroll W. McColpin, Fourth Air Force commander, said Colonel Johnston's ". . . Professional competence, diligence and devotion to duty were the primary factors in consideration for this award."

Johnston returned from Southeast Asia in March. He had served as chief of plans and programs for the military assistance command Vietnam in Saigon for one year.

Johnston, 53, lives at 27 Greenwood Cove Drive in Tiburon with his wife, Edna. They have one daughter, Pamela, who is living in Los Angeles.

AFFIDAVIT OF INTENT TO SELL REAL PROPERTY TO THE STATE

STANLEY J. FONTEZ, Tax Collector of the County of Marin, State of California, being first duly sworn upon oath, deposes and says:

That notice is hereby given that unless the total amount due for taxes, assessments and other charges levied in the Year 1967 for the Fiscal Year 1967-1968 on any property as shown on the secured roll in my custody, is paid before 5:00 o'clock P.M., June 28, 1968, the real property on which such amounts are a lien (except real property previously sold to the State and not redeemed) will, by operation of law, be sold to the State of California at such time in the Office of the Tax Collector at the Civic Center, County of Marin.

Real property sold to the State may be redeemed by payment of all unpaid taxes and assessments together with such additional penalties and fees as prescribed by law, or may be redeemed under an installment plan of redemption.

Unless sooner redeemed or an installment plan of redemption is initiated and maintained thereon, real property sold to the State for delinquent taxes will be subsequently deeded to the State at the time prescribed by law. Thereafter, such real property deeded to the State may be sold at public auction or otherwise conveyed, unless redeemed.

A DETAILED LIST OF ALL REAL PROPERTY WHICH IS SOLD TO THE STATE PURSUANT TO THIS NOTICE WILL BE PUBLISHED ON OR BEFORE SEPTEMBER 8, 1968, UNLESS SUCH PROPERTY IS SOONER REDEEMED.

All information concerning redemption, or the initiation of an installment plan of redemption of tax-sold property will, upon request, be furnished by Stanley J. Fontez, Tax Collector and Redemption Officer, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Tiburon Householder Arrests Suspected Burglar In His Yard

Fred Mark Ambrozic, 30, of no fixed address, was placed under a citizen's arrest about 12:15 a.m. today by Dennis Michael Brogan, 3700 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, who said he found Ambrozic burgling his home.

Brogan told officers he arrived home about midnight, saw an old model Ford car drive away, then saw Ambrozic standing in front of Brogan's home with a stack of Brogan's stereophonic equipment nearby.

Brogan said Ambrozic apparently mistook him in the dark for an accomplice, because Ambrozic spoke to him. Brogan placed him under a citizen's arrest and notified deputies, according to the report.

He said the loot, which had been taken from the house included $1,800 worth of stereophonic amplifiers, a turntable, and two speakers.

A description of the departing car was given police in the belief that an accomplice fled in it. Ambrozic was booked in county jail in lieu of $3,750 bail. He also was scheduled for court appearance this afternoon.

Ted Stein of 802 Autumn Lane, Mill Valley, co-owner of a rental house at 305 Dolan Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, told officers Wednesday someone stole a $150 dishwasher from the rental house. No forced entry was evident.

Charles Roland Morey, 15 Washington Avenue, Santa Venetia, reported Wednesday that burglars broke a window, entering his home and stealing a .22 caliber revolver from a bedroom.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Perfect Balance Is Way To Save The Back For A Lifetime Of Use

VAN DELLEN

Backache is the price man pays for walking, and working in an upright position. The lower part of the spine suffers most. The best way to save the back for a life-time of use is exercise and to keep it in perfect balance. This is the chief reasons physicians stress good posture among young children and teen-agers.

Slight bending to right or left tilts the pelvis and throws the vertebrae out of alignment. The same occurs when the youngster assumes an exaggerated "at attention" position, with tummy protruding and shoulders thrown back too far. This accentuates the normal curves of the spine and forces the lowermost vertebrae to bear the entire weight of the body on the posterior rims of the vertebral structure.

BOYS OR GIRLS may not feel the effects of faulty posture, because the young back is able to compensate. This is why parents should be on the alert and insist upon improvement of the child's stance. Otherwise the groundwork is set for trouble in adult life, especially during pregnancy or if the individual becomes obese or does manual labor.

In a recent report the majority of women experiencing backache following delivery of a child had never indulged in exercises.

PAIN ALSO follows minor injury, fatigue, or a period of bed rest because of illness. In this respect, anything that weakens the muscles will incapacitate a back that is in poor alignment. Distress usually is located in the low back area and is most likely to begin late in the day after a period of activity and standing. Many of the victims stoop slightly because flexing the small of the back lessens the intensity of pain.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

GALLSTONES, PARSLEY

R. M. S. writes: Is parsley tea of any value in dissolving gallstones? I have been advised that taking a certain amount every day for two weeks or more would dissolve my stones. The physician said surgery was the only way to remove them. Please advise.

REPLY

No drug or food will dissolve gallstones. It certainly would be wonderful if we had such a product, but I suspect that most of the individuals who tout these nostrums are quacks.

IN FAIRFAX

24 Years As Teacher Of The Young

By GLENN ANDERSON

Twenty-four years ago this fall Mrs. Cornelia Wyatt stoked a coal furnace to heat the first kindergarten classroom in Fairfax.

She is retiring at the end of the current school year after spending all the intervening years as a kindergarten teacher in that city.

GENTLE DISCIPLINARIAN — Cornelia Wyatt enthralls Julie Keating and Bartholomew Jones of the 24th kindergarten class she has taught and entertained in the Fairfax School District. Mrs. Wyatt, who believes a firm hand is a kind hand in the long run, will retire June 30. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

RECALLS CHANGES

Mrs. Wyatt spoke softly yesterday as she recalled the changes she has seen in that nearly quarter-century.

Hundreds of modern homes have been built in what was a small community of families occupying older homes that had once been summer cabins for affluent San Franciscans.

In the fall of 1944, Fairfax's first kindergarten was started in response to a petition circulated by residents. Mrs. Wyatt was the lone teacher for 30 children.

The classroom was a single room in a two-story clapboard building on Park Road, which was then the community church.

FIRST EQUIPMENT

For the first month, her only equipment was a supply of crayons and paper and a piano. Eventually she received shipments, delayed because of World War II, including pegboards, puzzles, powdered paint and easels.

Some of her students today are the children of kindergarten pupils she taught two decades ago, she said. "Those who were well brought up and cooperative," she observed, "have raised their own children in the same way."

Once in that first year, when the youngsters were clearing a field of rocks so they would have a safe playground, they disturbed a swarm of bees.

"I had 30 hysterical children and there was no one to handle the situation but me," she said.

In later years, Mrs. Wyatt and the kindergarten were transferred to Central School when a new wing was constructed. More recently she has been one of two kindergarten teachers at the Manor School, one of Fairfax's three kindergarten through sixth grade schools.

Mrs. Wyatt was a teacher in Phoenix, Ariz., for several years, but quit at the time of her marriage.

Her intention had been to remain a teacher only through the duration of World War II when teachers were critically needed, but, she said, "I enjoyed it so much and they (school administrators) wanted me to stay."

She taught kindergarten, Mrs. Wyatt said, through an era when child psychologists maintained children "should be allowed to do what they want and should never be frustrated."

"The trend has changed," she said, "and the children are considerably better for it. Children who are disciplined are more secure."

What are her plans for the future? For the next two years until her husband, Lamar, a salesman, retires, she will be a housewife. Then, she said, "we want to travel and see the United States."

Synanon Drops Plans To Buy Apartment Unit

Despite efforts by two college students to persuade the Corte Madera Town Council to look favorably upon Synanon, officials of the Synanon Foundation said yesterday they have abandoned all ideas of purchasing the Uplands Apartments in Corte Madera.

Thomas Wickham of Terra Linda and Dennis Saccuzzo of Corte Madera, both students at Sonoma State College, have written to the Corte Madera Town Council endorsing Synanon's programs and asking council support for a Synanon facility in the town.

Last month, Tomlinson I. Moseley, owner of the apartments on Paradise Drive, said that negotiations with Synanon had been broken off. He blamed pressures exerted by the town council.

Yesterday, a Synanon spokesman said that the foundation is currently spending all its efforts in looking for a building to replace the Seawall facility in San Francisco, which is going to be demolished. The search is being made only in San Francisco, he said.

Workshop Reset

A public budget workshop among Tamalpais Union High School District trustees and members of the public, scheduled for 1:30 p.m. tomorrow, has been postponed until 8 p.m. Wednesday in the district office in respect to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Corrective Channel Dredging In Bolinas Lagoon Discussed

Representatives from conservation and other interested groups held "a good, open discussion" Wednesday night on the proposed corrective dredging of a channel in Bolinas Lagoon, Norman T. Gilroy, planning consultant, reported.

The Bolinas Harbor District board set up a joint meeting of concerned groups to explain the proposed dredging, which the board says is needed to prevent irreversible silting and damage to the entire lagoon circulation system.

Prof. Joel F. Gustafson, ecologist at San Francisco State College, presented slides showing the silt buildup in the past year, stemming from heavy rains in the winter of 1966-67.

Gilroy, harbor board consultant, explained that without dredging, the silting will block the channel to the detriment of plant and animal life in the lagoon.

Representatives attended from Audubon Canyon Ranch, the Marin Audubon Society, Marin Conservation League, State Fish and Game Department, county government, and the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Local representatives agreed to explain the project to their groups and inform Gilroy of the groups' reactions.

The proposed project would clear silt buildups in Bolinas Channel near the lagoon mouth and in a spot behind Kent Island.

The Army Corps of Engineers has set a June 24 deadline for written comments on the project before it considers issuing a permit for the dredging. Comments should be sent to the Army Corps of Engineers in San Francisco.

Driver Fined $250

Lloyd Albert Pflueger, 48, of 30 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, was fined $250 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. The California Highway Patrol arrested him May 5 on Tiburon Boulevard.

Larkspur Prep Drafted By Yankees

Ken Johnson is elated.

"It's like a dream come true," the Redwood High School senior said after being chosen by the New York Yankees' Syracuse Triple AAA club in the common major league baseball draft of high school and college players, yesterday.

Johnson was picked 24th in the country in the draft and he's ready to start swinging a major league bat.

"We haven't talked to anybody yet," Johnson said. "Nobody from the Yankees has contacted us. But I'm eager to play. I'd like to get right to it."

Johnson can't sign until his graduation, which is next Thursday.

"I'm happy to be picked," he said. "I know there were a lot of rumors about who would pick me but I'm glad it's the Yankees. They were my preference.

"I hope there isn't any money problem," he added. "I'd like to play as soon as possible."

The draft is a culmination of long years of ballyhoo and honors, stretching all the way back to Johnson's earliest little league experience.

For the last two years of Marin County Athletic League action, Johnson has had scouts roaming Marin, acknowledging Johnson's status as a hot prospect for the majors.

Johnson's "career" started with the Larkspur Lumber Twin Cities Little League squad, for which he played four years. He was the league's top hitter in his last year of Little League play and was an all-star two years running.

Johnson followed that up with two years of all-star honors in Pony League play and added another batting crown to his list.

He also played one year of Colt league ball, chalking up another all-star honor.

From then on in, with the exception of one season of DiMaggio League play and a stint with the Litchfield Braves, it wall all Redwood High School under the guidance of Giant coach Al Endriss.

A starter as a sophomore, Johnson came into his own as a junior, when he was an all-leaguer and made the Redwood Tournament of Champions all-tourney team. His performance in the tourney was featured by one of the longest homers hit in Albert Field, a power shot in straight centerfield.

Johnson's three-year batting average at Redwood is a hefty .372 in 75 games, notching up 85 hits in 230 at bats. He's blasted 20 homers, drove in 54 runs, had 10 triples and eight doubles and

GIANTS STAY MUM ON NEW YORK GAME

Exactly who is going to show up with whom in tomorrow's scheduled San Francisco Giants-New York Mets game at Candlestick Park at 4 p.m. is still up in the air.

The Mets voted twice not to play the game out of respect to the memory of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. There has been no official word from the Giant front office as of this morning. The Mets say they "positively" won't play.

The Giants could show up and go through the ritual of warmups and take a forfeit victory or they could cancel the "youngster bat day" game which has an expected audience of 30,000 fans.

George Lee Is Faced With Tough Decisions

PRESSURE COOKER — George Lee of San Rafael, elevated to the post of head coach of the San Francisco Warriors only last month, already has experienced the pressure-packed decisions of professional sports.

In his first day on the job, for example, the 31-year-old University of Michigan graduate was confronted with a whopper: Putting either the established Fred Hetzel or second year man Jim Turner up for grabs in the expansion draft; one or the other had to go.

"It was my decision and mine alone," the dark-haired coach said the other day at his Bayside Acres home, "to keep Turner and put Hetzel up for expansion. I felt very badly and still do because Fred and his wife were very attached to the San Francisco area, but in professional sports that's the way the ball bounces."

Did owner Franklin Mieuli have anything to do with the decision? "No," said Lee, "I am the coach of the team, not Mr. Mieuli. Anytime any owner starts to coach a team you're in real trouble."

Has To Pick Best Rookies

Lee's next major task will come today at the conclusion of the Warriors' week-long rookie tryout camp. With only a couple of spots open on the squad, George will be able to invite only three or four rookies from the twelve candidates back to the team's official practice in September. Giving bright-eyed, bushy-tailed hopefuls their walking papers is not a pleasant chore.

Asked on what phase of the game he plans to concentrate, Lee answered in two words: "Tighter defense." Even when Nate "The Great" Thurmond was playing last season the Warriors were 10th in the league in defense.

Expect To Be Quicker

Lee added: "We'll still run and we expect to be a little quicker than we were last year. This will be made possible with Turner taking over for Hetzel on the front line."

George and Nancy Lee, who married in April of 1961 while he was a member of the Denver Truckers amateur team, moved to Marin in 1965. They belong in the Bounty County's Chamber of Commerce. George: "I have found my Utopia." Nancy: "I wouldn't leave here for all the tea in China." George: "Except if the taxes go up any more I may have to go back to Belmont. Also, I have to find a way to keep the deer out of my property; they're eating me out of house and garden."

Right Around The Corner

A golf bug, George said: "Another reason I enjoy my home so much is that I can just stick my golf clubs in the car and drive around the corner to Peacock Gap."

Mrs. Lee, busy raising two daughters, (see photo on page 40), also finds time to do volunteer work with wives of other pro athletes at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

Mrs. Lee, incidentally, won a blue ribbon in flower arranging at the Marin Art and Garden Fair last year.

An now, George Lee is shooting for a blue ribbon in arranging a winner in the NBA.

Postponements Through Nation

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sports world will join the rest of the nation in paying tribute to the slain Sen. Robert F. Kennedy this weekend in the only way it can—by cancelling some events and delaying others.

Affected sports include major and minor league baseball, thoroughbred and harness racing, boxing, auto racing and power boat racing.

New York's Belmont Park will hold its Saturday racing program against the wishes of its board of trustees by order of the State Racing Commission.

Three major league baseball games scheduled for tomorrow were postponed and none of the others will start until after the funeral. Two Sunday games also were put off. Today's schedule remains intact.

Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert ordered the postponement of Saturday games in Washington and New York and directed that the start of all other contests be delayed until after the burial.

Three games scheduled for the afternoon were changed to night contests. But the Chicago Cubs, whose Wrigley Field has no lights, were forced to postpone their game with Atlanta.

Elsewhere, the American Zone Davis Cup tennis final at Charlotte, N.C., between the United States and Ecuador will go on as scheduled. So will the Speedway Open golf tournament at Indianapolis, Ind.

Belmont Park canceled today's racing program, which included the 68th annual Grand National Steeplechase. The race will be run next Friday. Belmont wanted to cancel Saturday's card, as well. But the State Racing Commission overruled it.

In California, where Sen. Kennedy was assassinated, the state commission ruled that Bay Meadows, Golden Gate Fields and Hollywood Park would operate today and Saturday.

The Emile Griffith-Andy Heilman 12-round middleweight fight at Oakland was postponed from tonight to Tuesday night. The President's Cup Regatta, a Washington, D.C., fixture for hydroplanes, has been postponed indefinitely. It was scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

All five North American Soccer League matches and two international contests this weekend will be played as scheduled but ceremonies honoring Sen. Kennedy will be held before each.

The International League called off Sunday's entire baseball schedule. The Hawaii-at-Seattle Pacific Coast League doubleheader also was postponed. The Spokane-at-Indianapolis game was switched from Sunday to part of a Friday twi-night doubleheader.

The Davis Cup matches at Charlotte are scheduled to begin tonight with two singles matches. The doubles are set for Saturday and the final two singles Sunday.

Hart Has Booming Bat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, who live and die by the home run, feasted on Jim Hart's booming bat against the Philadelphia Phils yesterday.

Hart hammered a pair of three-run homers to take the National League lead with 11. His six runs batted in made Juan Marichal the majors' first 10-game winner in a 7-2 conquest of the Phillies.

The victory snapped a three-game losing streak and salvaged a victory for the Giants in the four-game series with Philadelphia. Of the nine San Francisco runs scored in the series, eight were the result of home runs.

Marichal boosted his record to 10-2 and lowered his earned run average to 2.78 with his fifth consecutive win. The Giants' veritable stopper for the second time in a week braked a three-game tailspin.

Hart's 425-foot home run several rows into the left field seats followed Willie Mays' single and Willie McCovey's walk with two out in the first inning.

After Frank Johnson singled and Mays walked in the seventh, Hart cracked reliever Dick Farrell's first pitch over the left field screen.

"The first one was a slow curve inside," explained Hart, who also belted two home runs against the Phillies Easter Sunday. "I don't think I could have hit a ball any harder. The second one was an inside fastball—Juan told me to be looking for it."

Marichal had one bad inning—the second—when the Phillies scored both their runs, one unearned. Roberto Pena went to second on a pair of errors. Successive singles by Cookie Rojas, Johnny Briggs and Tony Gonzalez accounted for the scoring.

The Giants knocked loser Rick Wise, now 4-3, out of the box in the second when Bob Barton's line drive bounced off the top of the pitcher's head for a single. Wise walked off the field and was released following X rays at St. Luke's Hospital.

A's Glad To Be Out Of Capital

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Oakland A's pitchers were glad to open a series with a new team today.

A's pitchers had started and finished six straight games before Oakland went to Washington and ran into Frank Howard.

The Senators took three straight, including a 4-3 victory last night, and in the three games the A's used nine pitchers.

Howard hit two homers and batted .400 in the three games.

He helped to beat the A's again last night with his 22nd homer in the first inning, after Del Unser had opened with a triple and scored on Ed Stroud's sacrifice fly.

Ron Hansen's homer produced two more runs for the Senators in the second inning following a walk to Mike Epstein.

Frank Bertaina blanked the A's for five innings but was knocked out in the sixth by Mike Hershberger's pinch triple and singles by Bert Campaneris, Ted Kubiak and Danny Cater.

Reliever Dennis Higgins limited the damage to two runs, getting pinch hitter Floyd Robinson on a grounder. Bertaina got credit for the win, and evened his record at 4-4.

Chuck Dobson of the A's lasted only the first inning and suffered his sixth loss.

FRENCH TENNIS

Nancy Richey Ousts Billie Jean King

PARIS (AP) — Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., five times clay court champion in the United States, eliminated Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., rated the world's best woman amateur tennis player until she turned pro, from the French Open Tennis Tournament today.

It was the second straight time in a row that the Texas girl had defeated Mrs. King in their long simmering feud. The score this time was 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

In the Madison Square Garden indoor meet earlier this year, Miss Richey triumphed by taking 12 straight games from Mrs. King.

Miss Richey will play Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones of England for the title Sunday. Mrs. Jones advanced by defeating Annette SuPlooy of South Africa 7-5, 6-3.

Mrs. King is the third member of the women's pro troupe to be eliminated here. The others are Rosemary Casals of San Francisco and Francoise Durr of France. Mrs. Jones also is a pro.

Mrs. King had much the better of the first set. She played patiently from the back of the court while Miss Richey, usually a baseline player, was lured to the net and made costly volleying errors.

In the second set, the tide began to turn. Mrs. King failed to clear the net with an attempted drop and lost her service to trail 0-2.

The professional played a similar shot successfully to break back in the seventh game. But Miss Richey came right back the next game with a volley and then a game winning forehand drive that caught Mrs. King on the wrong foot.

The Wimbledon champion looked tired as the girls battled out the final set. She made errors and lost her service to love

San Rafael Nine Has Hectic Slate

The Litchfield Braves of San Rafael begin a countdown for a hellish eight days of Western Baseball Association play tonight when they host the Santa Rosa Rosebuds at 8 o'clock at Albert Field for the beginning of an overflow schedule that will go a long way in determining just how good the defending champs are.

In the next eight days, the Braves take on a mercyless prototype schedule, playing 11 games in that span, including two double-headers.

It picks up again tomorrow night when the Eureka Crabs crawl into town for another night game at Albert Field at 8 p.m. and a doubleheader Sunday at noon.

Monday, amazingly enough, it's an off day, but it's back to the wars Tuesday when the Bellingham Bells swing into town for a single game at 8 p.m. and a twilight doubleheader Wednesday beginning at 7 p.m.

Bill Clark will hurl for the Braves tonight, to be followed by former Marin Catholic star Ben Burch tomorrow with Craig Tellis and Ron Cole hurling Sunday.

Admission is free to all Braves' home games.

Gibson Keeps Up With Youngsters

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Gibson is having plenty of trouble trying to keep up with three youngsters on the St. Louis pitching staff, but the Cardinals are enjoying the competition—even if the rest of the National League isn't.

Gibson, long considered one of baseball's best pitchers, blanked the Houston Astros 4-0 on three hits last night for St. Louis' ninth straight victory that put them 3½ games ahead of the field.

However, the gem only evened the 32-year-old Gibson's record at 5-5, still worse than Steve Carlton, 23 years old, at 7-1; Nelson Briles, 24, at 6-4, and Larry Jaster, 24, at 4-2.

Gibson lowered his earned run average to 1.52, still second to Jaster's 0.98. Carlton is 2.02 and Briles 2.33.

In the other national League night game, Don Sutton kept Los Angeles only 3½ games behind with a six-hitter that stopped the drooping Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2. In the afternoon, the New York Mets halted the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and San Francisco beat Philadelphia 7-2 on Jim Hart's two three-run homers to put the Giants and Phillies each 3½ back.

Cincinnati and Atlanta, also 3½ out, were not scheduled.

Gibson, who won last Sunday, was not supposed to pitch against Houston, but he volunteered when Dick Hughes came up with a tender arm. The Astros wish he had kept his mouth shut.

The hard-throwing right hander, who returned from a leg injury last season in time to win his second Most Valuable Player honor in the World Series, completed St. Louis' four-game sweep in the Astrodome with little trouble. He allowed only one man past first base as he joined Jaster and Carlton with two victories during the streak.

Orlando Cepeda, Tim McCarver and Lou Brock, off form this season after doing much of the hitting in the Cardinals' rout over the rest of the league last year, perked up for Gibson. Cepeda hit his seventh homer and singled in another run, McCarver followed Cepeda's blast with one of his own, No. 4, and Brock doubled and scored on Cepeda's single.

The Dodgers also swept disappointing Pittsburgh four straight as the Pirates managed only three runs in 37 innings and sank again into the cellar. Sutton, 3-5, gave up a run-scoring hit to Manny Jimenez in the first inning and Gene Alley's second homer in the sixth, but the Dodgers' attack more than overcame them.

Paul Popovich doubled off Ron Kline for two runs charged to loser Tommie Sisk, 2-2, and Tom Haller and Bob Bailey each singled in runs.

The Mets completed their first series sweep—three games—since July, 1966, as Dick Selma, 5-0, became the first Met to win five games in a row. He needed help from Ron Taylor in the seventh. Ed Charles slammed two homers for three New York runs off Ken Holtzman, 4-4.

Bruce Crampton Tops Speedway Open Field

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Bruce Crampton of Australia carried a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the $160,000 Speedway Open Golf Tournament.

Crampton rattled off four birdies on the back nine yesterday and finished with a four-under-par 68.

Billy Casper, PGA leading money winner, was tied for second with a 70 after being penalized two strokes when his caddy raked a sand trap before Casper hit on the third hole.

The efforts by Crampton and Casper, who played together, overshadowed the fine shooting of John Lively and Masters champion Bob Goalby.

Lively, 28, of Canton, Tex., shot a hole-in-one on the par 3 204-yard 17th hole, and Goalby fired his first double-eagle on the par 5 503-yard seventh hole.

Casper, Goalby and Lively were locked in a seven-way tie for second place with Speedway defending champ Frank Beard, Don Fairfield, Jim Grant and Bobby Cole.

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael was down the list with a 74.

Jack Tuthill, PGA tournament director, said a special service in memory of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will precede the tournament's final round Sunday. Players will wear black tabs on their clothes as part of the national day of mourning proclaimed by President Johnson.

The 138-man field will be trimmed to the low 70s and ties today for the final two rounds.

Crampton, who won the Speedway tourney in 1965 at nearby Greentree Country Club, said, "This was a lucky 68 I shot."

His 18th hole was an example. He drove into the rough, skied a shot over the green and still earned his par 4.

Casper contained himself when caddy Palmer Millikan made his mistake and forced him to take a 6 on the par 4 hole.

"I raked it just one time," said Millikan. "I didn't think. There were footprints in the sand and he raised a fuss about that yesterday in the pro-am. He told me to get the rake, and I just went ahead and raked. I cost him those two strokes."

Lively, who has been on the tour two years, said his ace surprised him. He said it was the first he had on the tour but the fifth of his career.

The Texas hit a three-iron that bounced on a bank in front of the green and rolled into the cup. He birdied the next hole with an 18-foot putt.

JOHNSON

struck out only 25 times.

His honors piled up. As a sophomore he was most valuable player in the Pacifica Tournament and made second team all-league honors. As a junior, he was on the all-tourney team in Healdsburg Tournament, all-star in the Tournament of Champions, all-league and most valuable played in the Joe DiMaggio League tournament. This year, he was all-tournament player in the Santa Rosa Tournament, took a KTIM sportsman award and was Redwood team captain, in addition to taking the loop's hitting title with a .495 average.

Although bonuses are officially out, being picked in the draft might mean a considerable amount of money for Johnson. It's a matter Johnson will let his parents, Gene and Gladys Morien of 31 Monte Vista, Larkspur, handle. Johnson has two sisters, Maureen 24, and Roberta 31 and two brothers, Phil 30 and Billy 17.

Galump..Galump..Galump Here Comes Frank Howard

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Galump . . . Galump . . . Galump.

The familiar sound of 6-foot-7, 260-pound Frank Howard tiptoeing around the bases was No. 1 on the American League hit parade in May when the big guy hammered 15 home runs.

Howard's tune is still getting plenty of play this month, but all of a sudden he's got company.

Home runs dominated four American league games yesterday with only Cleveland's 2-1, 11 inning victory over Chicago free of the long ball.

Howard and Ron Hansen homered for Washington's 4-3 victory over Oakland, Minnesota trimmed New York 2-0 on Tony Oliva's homer, Norm Cash and Jim Northrup homered, helping Detroit past Boston 5-3, and California stood off a three-homer barrage to defeat Baltimore 8-6.

IN FIRST

Howard socked his 22nd home run of the year and second in as many nights in the first inning against Oakland. An inning later, Hansen added his No. 5 as the Senators jumped to a 4-0 lead.

The two shots gave Washington eight homers in six games. The Senators have won five of those games.

Frank Bertaina worked five shutout innings with the bulge but the A's knocked him out in the sixth, scoring two runs on Mike Hershberger's pinch triple and three singles. Dennis Higgins pitched out of the jam and another in the seventh when he struck out Ted Kubiak and Rick Monday with the tying run on third base.

UNLOADS

Oliva unloaded in the second inning against the Yankees after Harmon Killebrew had singled. That was enough for Dave Boswell and Al Worthington who combined for Minnesota's shutout.

The homer was Oliva's seventh of the year, and, like Howard, his second in two days.

Boswell worked into the seventh inning but wilted in 93 degree heat and Worthington finished up.

Northrup connected for a two-run shot in the first inning for Detroit but the Red Sox bounced back with Carl Yastrzemski's ninth homer, a three-run shot.

Cash got those right back with a three-run homer in the third inning and Joe Sparma held the margin for his first victory over the Sox since 1965. Fred Lasher came out of the bullpen to get the final out, fanning Elston Howard with the bases-loaded in the ninth.

ERUPT

Elrod Hendricks had driven in three runs with a homer and single as Baltimore took a 3-0 edge into the seventh inning against California. But the Angels erupted for seven runs on eight hits with doubles by Tom Satriano, Paul Schaal and Rick Reichardt the big blows. Don Mincher drove in two of the runs with a key single.

The Orioles came back with Don Buford's pinch homer and a two-run shot by Curt Blefary in the ninth but the rally fell short.

Cleveland took its fourth straight one-run game from the White Sox and dumped Chicago into the American League basement.

Pinch hitter Vic Davalillo broke up this one in the 11th inning with a two-out single that scored Duke Sims from second. Sims had opened the inning with a walk and moved up on a sacrifice.

The Sox managed just four runs in 43 innings during the four games. They had just come off a sweep from Minnesota in which they won four games with just 10 runs.

Litterbug Set To Hit American Beauty Spots

STEVENS

This is the time of year when vacationers will crowd the highways, visit the state and national forests and many, many camping spots. Whether they be fishermen, hunters, hikers, or tourists, if they follow the trend of yesteryear, will take away with them fond memories, and they will leave behind them their trademark in the shape of empty cans, and bottless, partly consumed food, and other garbage.

It is possible that, too, these litter bugs may leave a stream or lake or reservoir so polluted that it will become "off limits" for everyone. That's tough on the decent visitor, but it can happen. Most of you remember that the area close to Cache Slough was posted with "No Trespass" signs.

It can and it did happen here in California. But the whole nation might be cited. The records show that in one state alone 40 bodies of water were closed because of the litter on the banks of streams.

SECRETARY ORVILLE FREEMAN of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, in a recent release quoted from a new book by George Stewart. "When some future historian sits down and summarizes what the present generation of Americans has accomplished, his climactic sentence could read 'Of the waters, they made a cesspool, of the air a depository of poisons, and of the earth itself, a dump."

We have a law on the books here in California that makes it illegal to throw away cans and bottles and rubbish, or the viscera of any bird or mammal within 150 feet of the high water mark of the waters of this state.

CALIFORNIA FISH and Game Wardens arrest about 500 violators of the litter laws each year. Conviction for the offense may result in a $500 fine, six months in jail or both.

When the litter law was passed, undoubtedly the author hoped the stiff fines and jail sentences would put a stop to careless handling of refuse. We could then be prideful in our beautiful outdoors. But ask yourself how many of the estimated 500 violators received any but a pennyante fine.

What good is a law if it isn't enforced? Think it over, talk it over and maybe — just maybe — something can be done to reach the objective of "KEEP AMERICAN BEAUTIFUL."

'Jack', Williams: New Breed Arrives

By KIMO CAMPBELL

Once upon a time, the public image of the athlete was based on two stereo types: the Jack Armstrong All-American boy, and the loveable illiterate. A few sports stars still fit those molds, but young athletes are of a new breed, all-around people who are respected by their peers as people, not as statistics off a sports page.

Two young men in the class that will graduate from the College of Marin in a week's time fit this new mold. They are athletes, and outstanding ones, but they are more definitively members of a generation and a race than of a class of one-dimensional sports figures.

SOME DIFFERENCE

Russ Williams and Honor Jackson have several things in common, and a few differences. Russ is short and compact, Honor is tall and thin. Russ, a basketball player, gets by more through effort than ability, while Honor has to be motivated by a clutch situation to expend some extra energy. Both are black, both grew up in Marin City, and both have a deep committment to helping their people gain a better life.

Honor (or "Jacky" as he is commonly called) is a gangling sprinter with large hands and great jumping ability—the Complete Receiver. Football coach Dick Read, who has watched Jackson demolish the COM pass receiving record book, calls him the "type of boy we get perhaps once in ten years. Jacky has great ability, he jumps and fights for the ball, he has learned to run all types of patterns, he is a great runner after the catch, and he has that speed (9.8 for the 100-yard dash, a COM record) which can beat the defender even if he's tightly covered. I won't be surprised if Honor goes all the way to the pros. He's the best junior college receiver I've ever seen".

WHEN IT'S CLOSE

Jacky admits that he is no great shakes at practice, nor does he go all-out when the team is far ahead. "I get down to it when the game is close" he says. This is best illustrated by the last play of his career at COM.

In the infamous Hartnell-Marin playoff for the Northern California J.C. title, Marin had fallen behind 23-29 and had the ball deep in its own territory, third-and-24, with little over a minute left to go. Last chance. Jackson had three men on him, with the whole stadium expecting a pass. It was time for a little extra, and Jacky had it. He beat three men for a 55-yard gain that set up the Tars' tying touchdown. This is what he means by getting down to it.

Williams is a different sort of athlete. He played on a championship junior varsity basketball team at Tamalpais High, coached by Hank Marshall, but rode the bench in his senior year, unable to get along with his varsity coach. He did run varsity cross-country for two years at Tam, and made a fair centerfielder for the Indians' baseball team.

At the College of Marin, coach Cal Riemcke gave Russ "a fair chance" and he took advantage of it. As a freshman, he set a school record by scoring 37 points in a junior varsity game, then went "up" to the varsity. This year he was the "catalyst" of the Tars' Western Division championship team, according to Riemcke.

"Russ gave us leadership and cohesiveness, helped us to play as a unit. He was always hustling and running, and his spirit gave the team a lift. He's improved a great deal, and I think he'll do well at the state college level, although his size (5-10) would hamper him at any higher level. He is a fine person and did a real good job for us."

Williams was elected both Most Valuable Player and team captain by his teammates, only the second time in Riemcke's tenure that one man has won both honors in one season. Russ was also a first-team All-Golden Valley choice.

Russ is something like a tightly compressed coil of wire: he sits quietly listening to others, then begins talking, slowly, but crisply and without hesitation, "telling it like it is." On the basketball court, he will stand with apparent nonchalance, then suddenly break into a dead run or dive for a loose ball. Assistant basketball coach John Panagakis testifies to his hustle by saying that "I've never seen an athlete improve in two years the way Russell did."

Jackson was an All-Marin County choice in football at Tam, in addition to starting in basketball and setting a Marin record in the long jump. At COM, he has twice been an All-GVC end and owns school marks in the 100 (9.8, breaking a record set by Dr. Arnold Nutting in 1935) and 330 hurdles (39.8). He credits Tam coach Willie Hector and Marin line coach Pete Limm with helping him the most, but gives an assist to his parents, particularly his mother, for keeping after him to maintain his grades. "My folks wouldn't let me play if I didn't get my marks up, which is good, because otherwise I tend to be lazy" he says now.

Jacky would like to attend either the University of the Pacific or Washington State, although the University of New Mexico and several others have expressed interest in his ability. "Pacific is near home, but I still think WSU because it's in the Pacific-8, which is about the best conference in the country."

After college, and possibly pro football, Jackson hopes to return to Marin City and help revitalize the black community. "I don't know what I'll do yet, maybe teach or coach — I like working with kids — but I don't know if I'd make a teacher. There's a lot to be done, and I know I'll be back to work in the black community."

Russ is interested in political science, history, and philosophy — all "word" courses. He likes to write and is a good speaker, with an analytical mind and deep convictions. He plans to go to San Francisco State next fall, play basketball and major in political science, history, or a related field. He hopes to write, possibly become a teacher, probably in a ghetto area. He works with children in Marin City and would like to come back and work to improve the community.

DECISION TO MAKE

Both Jackson and Williams have more than a passing interest in current events and the Black Revolution. Russ speaks of the difference between the atmosphere at the College of Marin and in Marin City. "It's like two different worlds" he says "and I have to decide how I can relate the two within myself."

Both these young men, who happen to also love sports, will be working for changes in their two worlds long after they quit their respective sports.

Eastland Shows Students How

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Lou Eastland, desk man and bowling instructor at Country Club Bowl, showed the students how to do it during the action in the 550 Trios League.

He rolled a 948 four-game series, which averages out at 237 pins per game. After his first three games, Eastland had a 761 score. He started off the evening with a 234, followed with a 248, then a 279, winding up with 187. A 10-pin in the fourth frame stoped Lou's bid for a 300 in that third game.

Walt Silva, Sausalito tavern man, missed a 900 series in the 550's by only three pins when he had games of 258, 195, 239 and 205.

Other big ones in the San Rafael league came from Dan Burke, 861; Frank Bernardi, 856; Mike Weddell, 849; Rick Posusney, 844, and Forry Wilson, 841.

Lil Scotto was tops for the gals, rolling a 571 three-gamer in the Country Club Bowl Ladies Scratch Trios.

CHAMP OF CHAMPS — The Taveggia-Brusati team of the Bell Ringers League ran off with $250 top prize in the fifth annual Tournament of Champions at Nave Lanes last weekend. Those team members, walking around with all those coins are Darren Casebier, George Caspary, Doug Daily, Frank Divita and George Thut.

Tiburon Lodge of Nave Masters was second, followed by Goldie's Girls of the Country Club Bowl Wig League No. 3, and Sunkist Pools of Ladies Classic Trios.

HOMECOMING — Air Force Lt. Col. Bud DeYoung, back from duty in England, thought he would get in a little practice by taking on his son, Terry, Hottest southpaw bowler around. Well, Terry showed his dad how, racking up a 290 game. Terry, by the way, led the Tournament of Champions scoring with a 681 series (226-257-198).

CATCHING UP — Pat Meiswinkel bowled her first 200 game, a 207 in the Bowlerettes League, and Barbara Forster put together five straight strikes and ended up with three deuces, 222 for high honor. Also in the Bowlerettes, Fran Spear picked up the 2-4-9-10 split and Dolly Martin knocked down the 6-7-10 . . . Bill Rhoades of San Rafael has been elected one of the directors of the California State Bowling Association . . . Oscar Gloistein won himself 5,000 Blue Chip stamps last Saturday in Country Club Bowl action, and that should keep him busy licking stamps for some time . . . In the South Shore Bowling League at Country Club, Elmer Tynes rolled a 235 game and 644 series and Lolly Laver rolled a 569 series, but those scores were overshadowed by 162-average Hal Keller rolling a 269 game, good for a Century Club Patch from the ABC . . . John Joseph III, also in the South Shore League, went way over his 158 average with games of 172, 205 and 246, good for a 623 series.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Young Texas Team With National Flavor Shows Why It Is All Pro

Keep your eyes on the Dallas Aces, a young bridge team recently organized by Ira Corn and James Jacoby, well-known Dallas experts. They recruited Bobby Wolff of San Antonio and reached out to Oakland, California for Mike Lawrence; to New York for Billy Eisenberg, and to Philadelphia for Bob Goldman. The skill of the team is shown in a hand played recently by Eisenberg in a Los Angeles match.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

After winning the first trick in dummy with the king of clubs, Eisenberg asked himself the traditional expert's question: "What can beat me?"

Eisenberg could afford to lose a trump trick, but not to East since he could not afford to have a diamond led through his king. To see this danger was to find a way of avoiding it. Eisenberg planned to play the trumps so as to keep East out of the lead. This would not be possible if East had Q-9-8-7 of trumps, but this precise holding was very unlikely.

Eisenberg began his campaign at the second trick by leading the jack of spades from dummy. If East played low, declarer could well afford to risk the loss of the trick to West. As it happened, however, East covered with the queen of spades, and declarer won with the ace. The fall of the seven indicated that East would not hold the one fatal trump combination.

UNEXPECTED TRICK

Declarer led a club to dummy and returned the six of spades, still aiming to duck the trick safely to West. East played a low trump, and dummy's six unexpectedly held the trick. Now South could easily draw two more round of trumps and run the hearts, making his contract with an overtrick.

It is worth noting that East could not have saved himself by covering the six of spades. Declarer would win with the ten, noting West's failure to follow suit. South would reach dummy with a heart to lead another trump for the proven finesse.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer you hold:
♠—A K 10 5 2
♥—J 4 2

♣—7 6.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade.

This is a borderline opening bid, but you vote to bid rather than to pass because of the excellent high-card structure and the strong five-card spade suit.

Record Trading Week Ends With Market Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today after weathering some profit taking. Trading was heavy.

Volume for the week reached a new record, topping the previous peak of 78,476,000 shares made in the week ended April 5.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks made another historic high. The ticker tape was five minutes late at the final bell.

Goodrich stretched its gain to about half a dozen points in late dealings. Bunker-Ramo (new) was the most-active stock by a wide margin.

Prices near the close included:

Goodrich, up 4¾ at 70; Bunker-Ramo (new), up 1¾ at 20¾; Hooker Chemical, up 2⅞ at 61⅞; Occidental Petroleum, up 2⅜ at 52½; Sperry Rand, up 2 at 59⅛, Jones & Laughlin, off 9 at 68½; Gulf & Western, up 2⅛ at 50; Crucible Steell, up 1⅞ at 38⅞; and Ashland Oil, up 2⅜ at 44⅜.

Volume for the first four hours was 12.84 million shares, compared with 11.38 million yesterday.

Gains still outnumbered losses by nearly 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Bunker-Ramo (new) again forged ahead to the top of the most-active list, rising more than a point, as investors continued to assess its new merger with Amphenol.

Jones & Laughlin was a conspicuous casualty, plummeting more than 9 points after Ling-Temoc-Vought said it would accept 5 million shares of J & L stock on a pro rata basis of the 6.85 million shares tendered.

Wide gains were scored by many of the most-actively traded issues. Up around 2 points or better were Sperry Rand, Hooker Chemical, Occidental Petroleum, Gulf & Western and Ashland Oil.

But profit taking was apparent in fractional losses shown by Clark Equipment, Brunswick, National Airlines, Glen Alden and Massey-Ferguson, all active.

Goodrich ran up 3 points, International Nickel and Penn Central 2 or more.

Montgomery Ward had a sinking spell, losing about 2½. American Smelting dropped a point of recent big gains.

Average Income Now Up To $11,933

A newly reported gain in average household income has placed Marin County as the highest-income county in all 13 western states.

The new high of $11,933, estimated by Sales Management Survey of Buying Power is up 5.2 per cent from the 1967 estimate of $11,337.

Sales Management also places Marin per capita income at $3,640, up from $3,436 a year ago. In the Bay Area, Marin is followed by San Mateo County at $3,612 and San Francisco County at $3,568. Average per capita income for the state is estimated at $3,083.

Households with incomes over $10,000 are reported to be more numerous (38.6 per cent) than other income groups. Households earning $5,000 to $8,000 comprise 19.8 per cent, and those earning $8,000 to $10,000 at 15.1 per cent.

Eighteen per cent of Marin families are estimated to have incomes under $3,000, and 9.5 per cent are in the $3,000 to $5,000 range.

Five years ago the number of incomes over $10,000 was estimated at 32.5 per cent.

Total effective buying income for the county is estimated at $723,167,000, up 7 per cent from the $673,419,000 reported in 1967.

'Super Cannery' Set In Valley

SAN FRANCISCO (BW)—Tri/Valley Growers has selected a site and let the first contract for its $15 million "super cannery," according to Donald McClain, president and chairman of the board of the canning cooperative.

The new food processing center, projected as one of the largest in the nation, will be built on a 112-acre site in East Modesto.

The total plant will have a planned capacity of 10 million cases of canned fruits and vegetables per year. The new processing center will replace three plants that Tri/Valley currently operates in downtown Modesto, Stockton and San Jose.

American Express, Fund Group Propose To Combine Services

A tax free exchange of convertible preferred stock of American Express Co. for the outstanding stock of the Fund American Companies has been proposed in an agreement in principle to combine their services.

Based on 1967 reported results, consolidated net income available to American Express common shareholders would be increased by more than $1 per share on the recently split three-for-one shares. Shareholders' equity would be increased by Fund American's approximately $365 million of capital and surplus. The combined companies would have total assets in excess of $3 billion.

The proposal is subject to preparation of a formal agreement and approval by the respective boards and shareholders.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Need Only To Switch Two Stocks For Income

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I'm enclosing a list of stocks I've held for nine years. They have not done very well and because I'm retired I could use more income with some growth, too. With $6,000 to invest, what are your suggestions for improvement? — L.N.

A. Your list needs little improvement, I would say, although two switches could better your income. I'd take the fine gain realized from Hecla Mines — rather too speculative for someome in your circumstances — and for tax purposes offset this gain by accepting the loss in Montgomery Ward. Earnings here, though improving, have a long way to go and income is too low.

For increased income I recommend first Hackensack Water, yielding 5⅜. Profitable operations in the burgeoning area of northern New Jersey have brought periodic dividend increases partially exempt from federal taxation. My second suggestion is Lorillard, the country's fifth-largest cigarette maker and a successful merchandiser of nontobacco products.

Its dividend was recently increased and when Lorillard withdrew from its pursuit of Schenley the price drop in its shares brought the current yield to 5½ per cent. My third selection, yielding a more modest 4 per cent, is Chemical Bank N.Y. Trust, the country's sixth-largest bank with a record of consistently increasing assets during the past decade.

Equal dollar amounts placed in these three conservative issues will supplement income and provide some protection against inflation.

Between 1942 and 1945 I invested $4,000 in E bonds. Are they still drawing interest and, if so, how much will they be worth at the end of 30 years? — R.K.

A. Yes, they're drawing interest at the annual rate of 4.15%. Lacking your exact purchase dates, I can state only an approximate value for your investment. Each $18.75 bond bought between the dates you mention will be worth a minimum of $50.22 and a maximum of $51.95 at 30-year maturity. Thus, your $4,000 investment will be redeemable for $10,500 to $11,000 at the end of 30 years.

Missing Sub Declared Fit Despite Trouble

NORFOLK (UPI — Despite hearing testimony of various mechanical defects, a Navy board of inquiry has decided that the ill-fated nuclear submarine Scorpion was a fit vessel for its age.

After hearing a procession of witnesses describe mechanical troubles in the 8-year-old sub, Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin, speaking at the inquiry, said the Scorpion still was about the best of its class.

"A good Model-T nuclear submarine," was the way he put it.

Austin led the inquiry into the loss in the Atlantic of the nuclear sub Thresher with 129 crewmen abroad in 1963.

While the Navy board continued to probe the disappearance of the sub, overdue here since May 27 on a voyage from the Azores, the Navy transferred the sub from "missing" to "lost at sea." But an air and sea search continued.

At the Norfolk Naval Base chapel, late yesterday afternoon, Rear Adm. James W. Kelly, chief of Navy chaplains, told a memorial service: "Truly these men are peace makers, effective deterrents of war because of their mobility while hidden in the depths of the ocean."

Austin delved deeply in the Scorpion's mechanical difficulties.

They concerned in part the complex electronic sensory gear, which has been made more sophisticated on newer submarines.

During its last mission in the Mediterranean NATO maneuvers, the Scorpion had trouble with an antenna, a position plotter, and its radio direction finder, witnesses said.

The hydraulically controlled "planes" that guide the submarine up and down on two occasions acted erratically under stress.

Hydraulic oil escaped unaccountably from periscope fittings in such quantities that the Scorpion command used caution to preserve its remaining oil supply.

And, according to unconfirmed hearsay evidence, hairline cracks in a "non-pressurized" section of the hull itself may have been observed by seamen and gone unreported.

Most of these troubles were viewed by Navy officials as merely the current bugs in a complex fighting machine that had received unsurpassed safety attention, according to the testimony.

$32.2 Million BART Budget Wins Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors yesterday approved a $32.2-million budget for the fiscal, year starting next July 1.

President James Doherty of El Cerrito opened the hearing and asked whether anyone in the audience wanted to speak for or against the budget.

After two seconds of silence, he declared the hearing closed and the board passed the budget.

It includes $27.9 million for paying construction bonds and $4.2 million for administrative expenses.

The budget will require a property tax levy in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties of about 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Fisherman Dies In Canyon Fall

MILPITAS (AP) — Floyd T. Brown, 75, San Jose, was fatally injured yesterday when he slipped and tumbled about 50 feet, striking his head on a rock in Arroyo Hondo Canyon.

Brown had gone fishing with Edward Matteoni of San Jose and two young sons of Dr. Richard Nelson, owner of the property along Arroyo Hondo Creek about 15 miles northeast of San Jose.

Matteoni told officers that Brown appeared to have a heartbeat when he left to get help. Dr. Nelson was flown in by Coast Guard helicopter summoned from San Francisco and found the man dead.

Young Murderer Gets Life Term

OAKLAND (AP) — The convicted slayer of a state assemblyman's secretary has been sentenced to life in prison.

The penalty was ordered by Judge William H. Brailsford yesterday for Peter John Salabar, 19.

Mrs. Miriam Martin, secretary to Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-South San Francisco, was killed last January when Salabar and George Sinclair, 19, broke into her North Sacramento home to steal a coin collection.

Sinclair was sentenced to life in prison by a Sacramento judge, but Salabar's trial was moved to Alameda County Superior Court, where he was convicted by a jury.
